

Set Liuni Custody Airing on Tuesday

Sparring in the touching legal battle for custody of pretty 4½-year-old Beth St. John, foster child of a Tillson couple, which has gained nationwide publicity and interest in some foreign countries, today continued in elaborate sequence as the uncertainty of the future homelife of the little girl remained in balance.

While a hearing was scheduled for Tuesday at 11 a. m. before the Appellate Division of the State Supreme Court in Albany to hear oral arguments on application of Ulster County Welfare Commissioner Joseph Fitzsimmons to vacate a present stay order. The Freeman received a letter signed by 63 officers and enlisted men serving in Germany and attached to a money order in the amount of $42.20.

Funds for Liunis

The money order made out to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni, Tillson foster parents of the child, has been forwarded to the worried couple, who are waging a pathetic fight to retain custody of Beth, whom they want to adopt as their own.

Fitzsimmons at the Albany hearing on Tuesday will seek interim physical custody of Beth, who has resided with the Liunis since the age of five days.

Under the stay which will be argued before the Appellate Division, Beth has been allowed to remain with the Liunis and their own three children during the litigation.

On Friday, justices of the Appellate Division dismissed an appeal from a custody ruling of Ulster County Family Court Judge Hugh Elwyn and ordered a new hearing before another judge after Judge Elwyn was disqualified.

According to Albany reports, Judge Elwyn made a telephone

Crash Kills Cairo Resident Friday In Greene County

Edward J. Schroeder, 27, of Cairo, was killed Friday night in the collision of two automobiles on Route 23 near the Greene County community of Catskill.

According to State Police at the Leeds substation, the accident occurred Friday at 7:30 p. m. on Route 23 about two tenths of a mile west of the Cairo junction road and only one mile from the Leeds barracks.

Schroeder's 1961 model car was in collision with a 1966 sedan being driven by Addison Bissell III, 22, of Cooperstown. Authorities said the fatal accident occurred when the Schroeder auto, eastbound on Route 23, crossed into the westbound lane and struck the Bissell vehicle on the right front with its right front. At the time of the collision, Schroeder's car was in the extreme right hand portion of the opposite lane.

The Cairo resident was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Vincent Tuzio, of Cairo. Also at the scene was Coroner Leland Cunningham, of Greenville. Cause of death was not immediately available, but will be released after an autopsy is performed on the victim by Dr. Joseph Bellamy, of Hudson.

Bissell, the other driver involved, reportedly suffered extensive injuries in the collision. Taken to Albany Medical Center, he was being treated for fractures of the upper jaw, fractures of the nose, a fractured left knee and loss of teeth, all of which were said to have been knocked out.

Investigating at the scene of the Greene County highway mishap were BCI investigator J. Valicenti and Trooper W. Curtis, of the Leeds substation.

GM Cuts Production, Ford Optimistic on Sales Lags

DETROIT (AP) — The four major auto companies — General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors — are slicing production. All four firms have reported lagging sales and declines in profits.

The industry, a key force in the U. S. economy, was jolted Friday when General Motors revealed it would cut its auto output by 8.1 per cent.

GM, the nation's largest auto builder, said the cutback would start with a 3.7 per cent reduction in December and an additional 4.4 per cent in January.

An undetermined number of workers will be laid off assembly lines as 11 of its 23 assembly plants around the nation reduce their output, GM said.

"These are rugged days for General Motors," the firm's board chairman, Frederic G. Donner, said only last month.

But Lee A. Iacocca, group vice president of Ford Motor Co., said this week: "Nobody is singing the blues around here."

Save Beth Group Is Organized Urge Residents Tell Supervisors

A "Committee to Save Beth" is being formed to circulate petitions and to raise money—in the hope that public pressure will permit Beth St. John to be adopted by the Michael Liuni family of Tillson.

The committee is headed by Mrs. Grace McEvoy, a neighbor of the Liuni family, who has been circulating petitions for Beth since the adoption case came to the attention of the public several weeks ago.

The case involves a 4½-year-old foster child whom Ulster County Welfare Commissioner, Joseph Fitzsimmons, is attempting to take away from the only home she has ever known, after refusing to give the foster parents permission to adopt her.

"We are also urging residents of Ulster County to write to their individual supervisors and to the chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors," Mrs. McEvoy said, "to protest this inhuman decision on the part of Mr. Fitzsimmons."

"Further, we are asking for contributions to The Committee to Save Beth" to pay for advertisements and for whatever legal fees it may be necessary to incur to see that Beth is permitted to remain with the Liunis as their legally-adopted daughter."

Additional information on "The Committee to Save Beth" may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Grace McEvoy, Tillson. All checks should be payable to the Committee and may be sent to Mrs. McEvoy.

Following is a list of the members of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors. Letters should be sent to County Office Building, 240 Fair Street, Kingston.

Estimate Damage At $300,000 in Port Jervis Fire

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. (AP)—A wind-whipped fire in the heart of the downtown business section injured four firemen and caused an estimated $300,000 damage early today.

Four four-story buildings were damaged. Apparently all were unoccupied at the time.

The fire swept two clothing stores, a furniture store, and a Sears-Roebuck store. The upper floors of the buildings were used for storage.

About 150 firemen from Port Jervis fought the fire. Firemen from surrounding communities also rushed to the scene.

Controls Put On Burning to End Pollution

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Statewide rules to control open burning of domestic and commercial trash will take effect in January, along with a tightening of current regulations to curb air-pollution.

Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, State-named Friday the trooper powers were granted to the state's Air Pollution Control Board. The board was established by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in his Clean Air Program last Aug. 1.

The new rules will bar all major open burning of domestic and commercial wastes throughout the state.

"During periods when the potential for increased air-pollution exists, all open burning of refuse will be prohibited."

"The new powers are being used quickly and effectively to satisfy the people's mandate for cleaner air," Ingraham said.

NEW YORK (AP) — The five-year drought in the Northeast "has been badly dented and it very well may be broken," says Henry C. Barksdale, an expert on hydrology.

NEW YORK (AP) — The five-year drought in the Northeast "has been badly dented and it very well may be broken," says Henry C. Barksdale, an expert on hydrology.

Barksdale spoke Friday before a group of meteorological students at New York University.

A series of studies on the Northeast, he said, have shown that groundwater levels had improved. He added:

"Vigorous measures of conservation and positive remedial actions taken at many places reduced the impact of the drought."

Barksdale has been a staff engineer for more than four decades with the Water Resources Division of the United States Geological Survey.

He also said the Northeast drought "has sharpened both locally and nationally our comprehension of the need for the preparation and execution of sound, well-coordinated plans for water resources development and use."

Cambodian Troops Raid South Viet Village Militia, Steal 14 Cattle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Uniformed Cambodian soldiers crossed the border into South Viet Nam, invaded a farming community and fought a brief battle with Vietnamese militiamen near the frontier, a Vietnamese military spokesman charged today.

He said 50 Cambodian soldiers penetrated 500 yards inside Vietnamese territory late Friday, kidnapped a Vietnamese civilian and stole 14 cattle. They returned into Cambodia after a short clash with a local militia unit near the frontier, the spokesman said.

The border-crossing was announced as fresh fighting broke out this afternoon in War Zone C between units of the U.S. 25th

Biologist Debunks Fish Kill in River

NEW YORK (AP) — A biology professor has testified that construction of the controversial Consolidated Edison Co. hydroelectric plant at Cornwall would have "no measurable effect upon the Hudson River fishery."

Prof. Alfred Perlmutter, of New York University, told a federal Power Commission hearing Friday that the annual catch of a single fisherman would have more effect on the Hudson River than building of a power plant at Storm King Mountain.

Bell, of Washington University, said the "total balance of fishery would not be materially changed" if the plant were built.

Bell also testified that the project would not be materially changed if the plant were built.

Hearing Resumes
The hearing resumes today. Conservationist groups, in opposing the projected $184 million plant, have contended it would threaten fish hatcheries, especially those of striped bass in the river.

Con Edison maintains that protective mesh screens covering the face of the turbine intake canals would offer adequate protection to fish life.

Perlmutter said field studies he made of distribution of striped bass eggs and larvae in the general area of Cornwall convinced him that "relatively few would find their way into the plant."

He said studies indicated that the effect on bass eggs, which are not adhesive, would be limited to those spawned within a 40-foot area in front of the turbine intakes.

He added that eggs of all other species in the area, other than shad, would not be affected by the project "for the simple reason that they will adhere to whatever they were laid on."

Spawn Upstream
Shad, said Perlmutter, were "biologically irrelevant" to the project since they spawn so far upstream.

Another witness, Prof. Milo C. Johnson got the go-ahead from his doctors Friday for the flight back to Texas. "They are quite pleased that he is going to the ranch and get some rest," said press secretary Bill D. Moyers.

The President plans to leave his $45-a-day suite at Bethesda Naval Hospital in suburban Maryland about midday, going directly to Andrews Air Force Base, Md., to board the presidential jet without stopping at the White House.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk has indicated the United States is holding open the possibility that a silence in the ground war in Viet Nam will be matched by a silence in the air war — at least for Christmas and the lunar New Year.

But Rusk added at a news conference Friday: "I would not want to hold out the expectation that a prolonged pause in the bombing might occur."

No Indications
He said there have been no indications from the other side as to what would happen if the bombing were stopped. But he drew a distinction between the idea of a general pause — like the one that lasted 37 days over the last Christmas season — and what might happen this Christmas.

Carefully emphasizing his words, Rusk said that what might happen during such special days as Christmas and the Tet lunar New Year — period would depend on the South Vietnamese and to some extent on the Viet Cong, the Communist guerrillas.

The Tet, which covers a three-day period in the second week of February, ushers in the "Year of the Sheep" in the Chinese lunar calendar.

At his first news conference in two months, Rusk avoided taking flat position against a holiday truce provided the other side stopped shooting. But he did rule out any one-sided gesture by the United States to stop bombing North Viet Nam without some assurance of reciprocal action.

Appear Unwilling
Rusk said the military problem is to be faced in South Viet Nam "solely due to the fact that the other side has not been willing to undertake serious discussions or to come to the conference table, or to engage in a conference or to start making peace."

On another subject, the secretary put Czechoslovakia on notice that relations with the United States would be affected if there is not a speedy solution in the case of Vladimir Kazan-Komarek, an American travel agent arrested in Prague on spy charges.

Rusk said the United States is "pressing very hard for immediate consular access" to the travel agent, a former Czech who was arrested while returning from a travel conference in Moscow.

Front Page Awards Given 5 Newswomen in Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1966 Front Page awards for excellence in journalism were presented to five newswomen Friday night by the Newspaper Women's Club of New York.

Two aspiring newswomen from the Columbia University Graduate School of Journalism also received awards from the club at its Front Page dinner dance at the Hotel Americana.

Reporter Christina Kirk of the Sunday edition of the New York News received a Page One award for the best news story, "A Day on Wing with Lady Bird," covering the first lady's 3,600-mile 19-hour round trip to Denver.

Cited for the best general feature was New York Post reporter Helen Dudar, for her profile of 59-year-old Mrs. Elva Miller, "a pop record sensation," with such hits as "downtown" to her credit.

The club's president, Virginia Pasley, presented the Front Page award for the best series to New York News reporter Kit-

READY FOR DEMOLITION — This row of three brick structures, part of the rapidly fading historic Rondout section of Kingston is ready for demolition crews and may even be leveled by the time this publication hits the streets. The huge corner building at East Strand and Hasbrouck Avenue once housed the Chelsea Furniture store. Demolition crews of William M. Young Co., Inc., Newark, N. J., are working down Hasbrouck Avenue. The razing all buildings approved for Urban Renewal clearance. The current project has been contracted for $234,000 and includes some 300 structures. Catholics May Now Eat Meat Fridays

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Roman Catholics now must decide for themselves whether to eat meat on Fridays.

But if they decide to discontinue the 1,000-year-old tradition of Friday abstinence, they are urged strongly by their bishops to substitute some other form of voluntary penance.

In an historic decree announced Friday night, the National Conference of Catholic Bishops released the nation's 45 million Catholics from mandatory Friday abstinence on most Fridays of the year.

Effective Dec. 2
The change is effective Dec. 2 — the first Friday of Advent — but since in most dioceses the no-meat rule is lifted on the day after Thanksgiving, most U.S. Catholics may join fellow churchmen in France, Italy and Canada in eating meat next Friday.

The U.S. bishops, winding up an extraordinary meeting of the national conference, made several exceptions to their decree.

List Fast Days
They said Catholics still must abstain and fast — limit the consumption of food in general — on Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, and on Good Friday, the Friday before Easter, and other Fridays in Lent.

The bishops said in their pastoral statement that on Ash Wednesday and on the Fridays during Lent "the obligation to abstain and fast is so substantial that no Catholic Christian" (Continued on Page 5, Col. 7)

Expect Some Loss In Fish Revenues After New Rule

Some fish industry executives predicted today that the lifting of the Friday meat ban for Roman Catholics would have a detrimental short-range effect on the industry. Others foresaw no major effect, and some even said fish consumption would increase.

"Fish is not going out of style," commented J. Richard Childs, president of Jean Foods Inc. of Syracuse, N.Y.

"Even should the Catholics stop eating fish on Fridays, there's always that wonderful world of Protestantism," said Dick Bernstein, owner of Bernstein's Fish Grotto restaurant in San Francisco.

Nationwide Survey
They gave their views in an Associated Press survey. Economists, executives and spokesmen for the nation's $2-billion-a-year retail fish industry predicted losses ranging from 10 to 30 per cent. Some said it would be only temporary.

Eugene Rolari, an executive of the Ocean Sea Fish Co. of Bridgeport, Conn., one of the largest seafood distributors in that state, said:

"Ninety per cent of the fish sales to the public is done on Thursday and Friday. I expect it will produce a drop in business." (Continued on Page 5, Col. 2)

Anticipate Veto Of Red Chinese U.N. Study Group

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — A proposal to set up a high-level study group to try to solve the 16-year-old China question appeared today to have little chance of winning U.N. General Assembly approval.

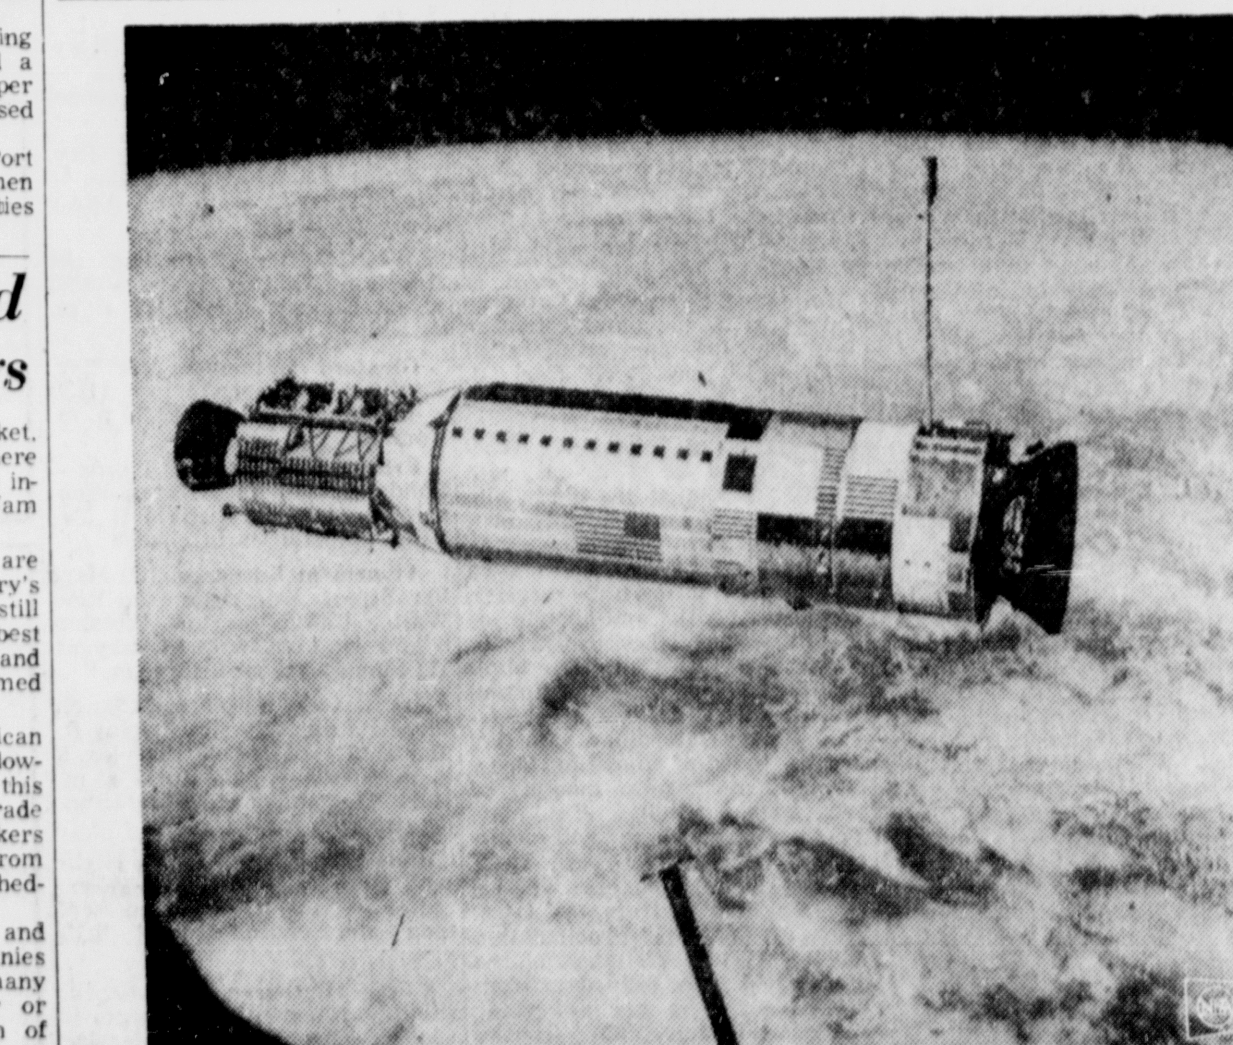

The highly touted plan got a cold reception when Italy's former Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni outlined it before the assembly Friday at the start of the annual debate on whether to give Peking the Chinese seat.

Both Nationalist China and supporters of Peking brushed aside the plan which is viewed as a long-range maneuver to seat both regimes in the world forum.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

As the hand of Divine Providence guided the Pilgrim Fathers through treacherous waters to a new land, so it guides us today. Each day we give thanks for His guidance as the Pilgrims did. Again we will observe a formal day of Thanksgiving as a memorial to their faith and to strengthen and give thanks for our own. The last two sentences in the Thanksgiving Day prayer from The Book of Church Services give us the spirit of this day.

... For all the gifts Thou hast bestowed upon us, and upon the whole family of man, we give Thee humble and hearty thanks. May we show our gratitude by faithful lives devoted to Thy service, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Ceremony Slated Sunday at New Methodist Home

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Methodist Homes of Connecticut, Inc., which will serve many elderly people throughout the New York Conference, which includes parts of Connecticut and New York states, will take place Sunday, Nov. 20, at 3:30 p. m., at Long Hill and Rocky Rest Road in Shelton, Conn.

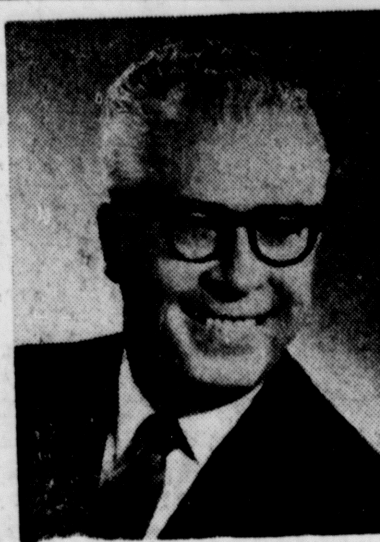

According to the Rev. Roy A. Goss, executive director of the new complex, the homes will be laid out on a 40-acre site. The first unit is to be a 90-bed modern nursing home at a total cost of $75,000 ready for occupancy in the fall of 1967. The second unit is to be a Congregate Retirement Unit consisting of 39 studio apartments, 37 one-room apartments with sleeping alcoves, 29 one-bedroom apartments and 8 two-bedroom apartments all with private baths. In addition, a cottage complex will be built, each complete with bedrooms and private bath and cooking facilities.

The Rev. Mr. Goss said that the Methodist Homes of Connecticut, Inc. will include a chapel and a nursing retirement unit. In addition, plans call for recreation facilities, dining rooms, doctors' offices and administration. He said the cost of the Retirement Home, exclusive of nursing facility, will be in the neighborhood of $2,400,000, part of the funds to come from the Urgent Needs Funds of the New York Conference. Occupancy of the retirement complex anticipated in the spring of 1968.

Area Baptists Schedule Bible Series This Week

The Rev. William D. Stewart, former businessman, pastor and Bible conference speaker, and now a member of the extension staff of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will conduct a Bible conference in the First Baptist Church of Saugerties, Thanksgiving week, Sunday, Nov. 20 through Friday, Nov. 25. Sunday services will be held at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., and weekday services at 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. Mr. Stewart has spent 30 years in the ministry, including pastorates in Oklahoma City; Billings, Montana; and Greenville, S.C., and 12 years in evangelism and Bible conference work. For eight years he was director of the Montana Gospel Crusade, which had a daily radio broadcast over a network of stations in Montana and North Dakota; a weekly television program; a correspondence school enrolling students worldwide; a state-wide ministry for children; and a summer Bible conference ranch.

A native of Oklahoma, the Rev. Mr. Stewart received his advanced education at Central State Teacher's college and Oklahoma Baptist university. Another important part of his training for his Christian service came from private tutoring from Dr. William L. Pettigill, renowned Bible teacher, Dr. Harry A. Ironside, famed pastor of Chicago's Moody church, and Dr. Lewis Sperry Chafer, for many years president of Dallas Theological seminary, also contributed much to molding the Rev. Mr. Stewart's expository preaching.

Although the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Stewart call Oklahoma City home, they travel widely across the United States and Canada for Moody Bible Institute, responding to invitations stemming from previous ministry in many areas.

Your Life And Mine

BY CLYDE HERBERT SNEEL

THE SPECIAL LOAF

Somewhere in Germany in the year 1948 there was a mother who somehow had managed, out of her family's meagre ration, to save enough bread coupons over a period of months so that for the holidays she could have a special loaf of white bread baked. She took it home wrapped as carefully as a precious piece of china. On Christmas morning she let her two small boys discover it under the tree, thereby strengthening their joyful belief that there was indeed a Santa Claus.

This mother, surprising her sons with a special loaf of white bread, reminds us how we so often take our greatest mercies for granted; and fail to ponder the magnitude of our daily blessings. In our abundance, unless we are very careful, we lose the sense of "the givenness" of life; and therefore feel no deep, heartfelt gratitude to Him "from whom all blessings flow."

No life ever is all sunshine. Mixed in with the bright mercies are the dark trials—and darker adversities. It is true that outwardly it appears that the lot of some mortals is more fortunate than others. But despite the troubles that may have dogged our trail, still even the most burdened or afflicted person can, by doing a little mental quarrying, come up with some good, sound reasons for gratitude.

On that first Thanksgiving Day, the pilgrims gathered in their quaint house of worship to render gratitude to God for his goodness to them. They had not had an easy life of it. They had experienced many hardships and endured many adversities. Sorrows had settled like a constant cloud over the little colony. Many of their number who had made the great adventure with them on the Mayflower were sleeping in their graves. But, through it all, they still had eyes to see their mercies—and they gathered to render thanks.

Thanksgiving misses its noble purpose if it is to us little more than a celebration. It is a day of remembrance; an alert sounded by the calendar; a hand that leads us up the mountain of vision where we see with greater clarity the gifts of Heaven.

Timothy Dexter once said that "an ungrateful man is like a hog under a tree eating acorns, but never looking up to see where they come from." A Thanksgiving Day was put into our calendar as a hint to look up. And, looking up, may we all feel in our heart a gratitude to God that words never could express.

Fair St. Church Thanksgiving Services

Special services of Thanksgiving will be held at the Fair Street Reformed Church this Sunday and on Wednesday evening.

Sunday at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock services, the church will be appropriately appointed for the season, and the junior choir of the church will present a special anthem at 11 o'clock.

Bible Reading Program Starts Thanksgiving Day

Julian Morton of the Olive-Shokan Baptist Church, West Shokan, urges local residents to participate in the 23rd annual Worldwide Bible Reading program of the American Bible Society from Thanksgiving through Christmas. Some 20 million persons took part in the program last year.

Since World War II when a lonely Marine on Guadalcanal sparked the idea by asking his comrades to join him in reading the same Scripture passage each day, the ABS has developed the Worldwide Bible Reading program around the globe. This year the program takes on special significance with thousands of servicemen in Viet Nam expected to participate as did their counterparts during World War II and the Korean conflict.

WBK booklets, containing a calendar and daily Bible selections, are offered free by the ABS to people who want to take part in the program. Close to 300 million such booklets have been distributed by the ABS since 1943. They are available at the Olive-Shokan Baptist Church during the special Thanksgiving service on Thursday, Nov. 24 at 7:30 p. m. and at selected local stores, banks and libraries.

This year's reading begins with Psalms 145 on Thanksgiving and concludes with Luke 2:1-20 on Christmas. A daily Bible reading for 1967 may also be obtained free from the ABS, 1865 Broadway, New York, N. Y. 10023.

Lindsay Cancels Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor John V. Lindsay Friday ordered the Department of Real Estate to cancel a $15,000 contract with a private public relations firm headed by a former Lindsay campaign aide.

Lindsay instructed Real Estate Commissioner Carl Madonick to advise Gilbert A. Robinson, the public relations consultant and former campaign assistant, that his contract's services would be terminated in 60 days, the notification time stipulated in the contract. The original contract provided payment to Robinson's firm of $125,000 monthly for the production of departmental press releases and related public relations work.

Unitarians Name Guest Speaker; LSD Subject

The Unitarian Fellowship of Ulster County will have as guest speaker this Sunday Dr. Sigmond Lichter.

Dr. Lichter's subject will be, "Living With LSD." He will explore the use of LSD, a subject of much controversy.

Dr. Lichter is the school psychologist for the Central High School District #2, in Nassau County, Long Island. He is on the executive board of the Nassau County Mental Health Center. Before coming to Nassau County, Lichter was the psychologist at the Norwich State Hospital, Norwich, Conn. He received his Masters from New York University and his PhD from the University of New Mexico. He has also taught at both NYU and the University of New Mexico.

Dr. Lichter resides in Huntington Station, L. I. with his wife and two children, and is a member of the Freeport Unitarian Church.

The meetings of the Unitarian Fellowship of Ulster County are held in the Pickett House Neighborhood Road and Lohmaier Lane, Lake Katrine, next to the Kingston IBM plant. Meetings start at 10:30 a. m. and the public may attend.

Dr. Osborne assumed the position held by the Rev. George Werner last July. His sermon theme will be Thanksgiving Is An Art. Special music will be provided by the chancel choir under the direction of Robert H. Palmatier.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Gov. Daniel J. Evans was to get some vocal support while dedicating a new stretch of freeway Friday.

Barbara Vaughan of Washington State University told the crowd she'd call out the letters in the governor's name.

Janet Slater of the University of Washington asked the crowd to respond with the appropriate letter.

"Give me an E," shouted Miss Vaughan.

The crowd responded with a loud "E."

Miss Slater cried: "Give me an F."

Silence.

Then everybody, including Gov. Evans and the two girls, broke up.

After the laughter died away, the freeway was opened.

Lutheran League Offers Booklets On Church Truths

Doubts and Questions about Christianity are answered through a series of booklets offered by the Lutheran Laymen's League, an auxiliary organization of the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

The Mid-Atlantic District of the league has prepared an order form for requesting one, two or all these easy-to-read booklets, which was distributed to Lutheran congregations this past week.

A total of 13 booklets, written by top authors, clear up vague, confused thinking. They deal with argument "pro" and "con." They answer misconceptions and doubts. "They do not 'sell' religion or any brand of it, but help the reader discover for himself that there is a sound basis for the Christian faith."

The booklets are offered by the Lutheran Laymen's League to promote better understanding of basic Christian truths.

Booklets may be obtained by writing to Lutheran Laymen's League, 2185 Hampton Avenue, St. Louis, Mo. 63139, the local headquarters at 210-10 Horace Harding Boulevard, Bayside, L. I. 11438 or the local Lutheran Hour chairman, George E. Weis, PO Box 269, Tillson, 12486.

Board May Reconsider Leaves College To Save Spouse; Reclassified 1-A

DETROIT (AP) — A widow on Social Security sent $10 and a God bless you.

There was $100 from a young woman whose husband had died of kidney failure.

And, perhaps best of all, the draft board said it would review the Tom Michaels case.

Michaels, 22, says he can't fight for his country because he already has a fight on his hands — a fight to save the life of his wife, Mary, 23.

On Sept. 9, five days after their first wedding anniversary, Mary suffered a complete kidney failure which doctors labeled chronic nephritis.

For nine weeks, Tom spent most of his time at his wife's bedside at three hospitals. He took three weeks off from his $5,500-a-year job as a painter at the Dodge truck plant.

Tom dropped out of senior-year engineering classes at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Selective Service Board 303 in suburban Warren revoked his student deferment, classifying him 1-A, which meant he is qualified for military service immediately.

If Mary is to live, doctors said, she must have her blood filtered twice a week through an artificial kidney machine.

To avoid $10,000 in hospital bills annually, Tom and Mary decided to buy their own $6,200 artificial kidney machine. He has made a $1,200 down payment.

"I can't operate the machine myself while I'm on it," Mrs. Michaels said. "I could pass out or something. It's just not safe."

She said Tom is the only person in their families who can spend the 10 hours required each time her blood is filtered.

Doctors and the parish priest wrote the draft board. The board said the letters weren't specific enough. They wrote again.

News stories on the plight of the couple brought the letters and checks.

Sens. Robert Griffin, a Republican, and Philip A. Hart, a Democrat, both of Michigan, said they were looking into the matter.

Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., contacted Col. Arthur Holmes, state Selective Service director. So did Charles Rundle, head of the war veterans organization, Amvets.

Col. Holmes said the case would be studied. The draft board said Friday it would reconsider, on Dec. 7, Michaels' 1-A classification.

Mrs. Michaels taught school in nearby Utica before she fell ill.

"If Tom gets exempted, I could go back to teaching next fall and we hope to have Tom back in school then, too," she smiled.

"Aren't people great?"

New Date on Yule Help

Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk today said that applications will be accepted for Christmas help at the Post Office on Monday, Nov. 21. Postmaster Newkirk said that a previous announcement made by him and published in Friday's Freeman was in error in stating that applications would be available at the Main Post Office Nov. 28.

Positions are open to all citizens 18 years or older.

Firemen Quell Blazing Lumber On Deyo Street

Origin of an early morning fire that damaged two large piles of lumber in the yard of the Quality Maple Block Co. on Deyo Street, was not immediately determined, according to fire officials.

Richard Mace, a truck driver, discovered the blaze and reported it to Wicks Hose Co. firehouse. Mace then sounded an alarm at 12:41 a. m. from Box 5231 at Foxhall Avenue and O'Neil Street.

Engine 1 and Truck 1 from Central Station, Engine 4 and Salvage from Wicks Hose and Excelsior Hose Co. volunteers were dispatched to the lumber yard in command of Captain Harry Sills.

According to records at Central Station, the fire started at the base of one large pile of lumber and extended upward and across to the second pile.

The flames were quelled with two pump streams and pressurized water from Engine 1 of Central Station.

During the fire, Engine 2 and Truck 2 from Wiltwyck Station covered up at Central Station. The all clear sounded at 1:07 a. m.

The Quality Maple Block Co. is owned by Morris Monashefsky.

ness of about 30 per cent.

W. F. Lomasney, an agricultural economist at the University of Illinois, who recently made a study of fish sales, estimated that fish consumption eventually might be cut by as much as 10 per cent.

Religion Not Involved

Discounting the possibility of a sales loss, the National Fisheries Institute said: "It is a long time since the seafood industry of the United States depended upon the observance of religious duties for its welfare."

Pointing out that there are 240 varieties of seafood available, the institute added: "We believe people are eating seafood because of nutrition, for flavor and for variety."

John Von Glahn, executive director of the Fishery Council, an organization of 125 dealers in the New York area, said there are 45 million Roman Catholics in the country. He said there could be problems where there is a high concentration of Catholics.

"But the industry as a whole is not worried," added Von Glahn.

Rusk, speaking of East-West relations in general, expressed hope a treaty outlawing military uses of outer space could be reached with the Soviet Union in the near future. He said some underbrush had been cleared away on the subject of nonproliferation of nuclear weapons, but no agreement is yet in sight.

Once again Rusk said reunification of Germany was necessary before there could be any genuine peace. Improved relations with Eastern Europe could open up some possibilities of unification which have not been possible during the coldest phase of the cold war, he said.

And Rusk said it was not the U. S. impression that Communist China has made important progress on its nuclear missile development. And it will be some before they have an intercontinental system, he said.

By that time, he said he hopes the Chinese "will be sufficiently sophisticated about these matters" to know that their use "would be a reckless act which could cause the greatest problems for them, even though they might possibly cause some problems for others."

Happy New Year, Early

NEW YORK (AP) — There will be no all-night revelry on New Year's Eve in public places in New York State the State Liquor Authority announced Friday.

Because the New Year falls on a Sunday, the authority said, the usual 3 a. m. Saturday closing time will apply to all night clubs, bars, restaurants and hotel ballrooms holding liquor licenses.

Woodstock Firm Bids for Trade In Italy Market

A Woodstock firm, Rotron Manufacturing Company, is one of 66 U. S. manufacturers seeking a share of the $105 million Italian market for advanced electronic components by exhibiting products at a show in the U. S. trade center in Milan through Nov. 25, according to the Department of Commerce.

The show is being held simultaneously with the International Automation and Instrumentation Exhibition being presented in the adjacent Milan trade fair pavilions. The trade center show is expected to draw an audience from the exhibition as well as buyers, agents, distributors and technicians from all parts of Italy and neighboring countries.

The Italian market for components is expected to expand 40 per cent in the next two years. This country supplied 27 per cent of Italy's $40.3 million imports of such parts in 1964.

heading home less than four days after the surgery in which they removed a small growth from Johnson's throat and repaired an incisional hernia on the right side of his abdomen.

The hernia erupted in the scar left by Johnson's gall bladder operation in 1965. That operation had kept him in the Bethesda hospital for 13 days.

This time Johnson spent only six days in Washington for his operation. He returned to the White House Monday after 10 sometimes hectic days in Texas and entered the hospital Tuesday night.

Much, if not all of his time between now and Jan. 10 — when Congress reconvenes — probably will be spent in Texas. There is nothing on the schedule now that would require his return to the White House.

Johnson had a final throat checkup from Dr. Wilbur J. Gould, and the White House reported that "the healing process has been very good."

His voice was reported strengthening — and for the first time since the operation he was able to use the telephone. Christian said he made one call, perhaps two.

The President still has four stitches in his right side, where surgeons repaired the ruptured scar. They are to come out in a week or so.

Dr. Lay M. Fox and other White House medical men are going to Texas with him, and one of them probably will remove the stitches.

Movers said the first week Johnson spends in Texas "will be less strenuous" than the days just prior to the operation. Then, he said, Johnson was working hard to get his desk cleared before entering the hospital.

But there's a lot of presidential work to be done in the weeks ahead. Johnson still wants to slice government spending in the current government year, even as he works on his budget for the next one.

He must decide whether a tax increase is going to be necessary next year. And there is his State of the Union message to be drafted, outlining his proposals to a Congress with its Democratic majority reduced by the election returns.

2 Motorists Pay Fines

Carlton S. Fisher, 29, of RD 1, 169D, Kingston, today pleaded guilty before City Judge Hubert Richter to a charge of passing a stop sign. He was fined $10, police said. Shortly after 9 p. m. Friday, Fisher's car was involved in an accident at Downs Street and Tremper Avenue, with a 1959 sedan driven by Mrs. Lillian Chase, 184 Wrentham Street, according to a report of Officers George Dougherty and Richard Spaulding. Fisher was cited for the stop sign violation. Tartsis Lewis, 39, of 44 Meadow Street, who was summoned last night by Officer Ira Hadel and Joseph Ferace, pleaded guilty in City Court today to a charge of operating a car with inadequate muffler. He paid a $10 fine, police said.

Disregard Dangers

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. Robert Kates of Clark University, Worcester, Mass., has told a gathering of scientists at Johns Hopkins University that tolls in natural disasters will increase because man insists on living in dangerous areas.

Fire in Accord

Fire caused damage to a building on the property of Stella Place at Accord after 10 p. m. Thursday. Accord firemen in command of Chief Lloyd Countryman had the blaze under control in about a half hour. The blaze reportedly started in a storage room. The origin of the fire was not immediately determined.

ship between him and the Fitzsimmons.

"We plead with the courts and all concerned to show mercy in behalf of Beth and the Liuni family that this child will be allowed to remain with the only mother, father and family she has ever known," was the touching message from the 63 officers and enlisted men who signed a letter to The Freeman and sent the money order.

Sgt. First Class Donald K. Marlowe in the letter signed by the 63 servicemen of the Headquarters and Headquarters Company and Band, Third Infantry Division Support Command, stationed in Germany, asked The Freeman to deliver the letter and money order to the Liunis.

Contents of Letter

Sgt. Marlowe wrote: "From some officers and enlisted men and with your kind support we wish to present to Mr. and Mrs. Liuni and family 63 signatures and $42.20 in support of the 4½-year-old child Beth case."

"We call upon your organization to assist in delivering our small token of support so that it might be available to the Liuni couple as support in the Nov. 18 appeal. (The appeal was dismissed Friday by the Appellate Division justices in Albany, Judge Elwyn was disqualified and a new hearing is being set.)"

Comment From Counsel

A joint statement was issued after proceedings in Albany yesterday by attorneys for both parties — Ulster County Attorney Abram F. Molyneux and Assistant County Attorney Richard W. Griggs, representing Fitzsimmons and Leonard N. Tarr, representing the Liunis.

The statement: "The Appellate Division has advised us that they have received a communication from Judge Elwyn with respect to his degree of family relationship by marriage and further requested their advice as to whether he should or must disqualify himself of these proceedings."

"The Appellate Court, citing statutory and case authority to us, decided to declare the proceedings in the Family Court null and void. They further indicated that they would select a new judge or request the administrative judge for the Third Judicial Department to appoint a new judge to hear this matter anew."

Hearing Is Tuesday

"With regard to the child's custody during this period, the court will hear oral argument Tuesday at 11 a. m. on an application to be presented by the Commissioner of Welfare of Ulster County to vacate the present stay."

"The attorneys for the parties have agreed amongst themselves to stipulate to the record established in the proceeding before Judge Elwyn, despite the fact that the Appellate Division set aside his order."

Statement from Resnick

In other developments in the case, Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick, in the wake of Judge Elwyn's decision to disqualify himself from the case, issued a statement as follows:

"I find it very difficult to understand why Judge Elwyn would not disqualify himself many months ago as the judge in the Liuni custody case, for surely he knew then he was related by marriage to Commissioner Fitzsimmons. He certainly cannot have disqualify himself as I wrote to the Appellate Division asking that they disqualify him because of this intimate relationship. This is a direct violation of Canon 13 of the Judicial Code of Ethics."

"I also find it difficult to understand why the Commissioner persists in his attempts to gain custody of Beth. Now the Liunis must go through all the strain and costs of another trial in order to keep this little girl they call their daughter. In order to prevent this, I plan to start a taxpayers suit as quickly as possible which would prohibit the Ulster County Welfare Commissioner and the Board of Supervisors from spending any more public money to prosecute this completely senseless, cruel and unnecessary lawsuit. I see no reason why the Welfare Department should continue to spend taxpayers' money to support Beth when there are well-qualified adoptive parents available for her. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Liuni. It is now out of the courts, let it stay out of the courts."

Commissioner Fitzsimmons can sign the adoption papers tomorrow instead of continuing to persecute the Liunis and Beth.

"Further, I am writing to the Ulster County Bar Association and asking that they look into proceeding against County Attorney Abram Molyneux and Assistant County Attorney Richard Griggs for their role in this conspiracy. Certainly, as county attorneys, Messrs. Molyneux and Griggs should have known of the relationship between Judge Elwyn and Commissioner Fitzsimmons and as officers of the court, disclosed this fact to the public."

"I am writing to the president of the Appellate Division once more and asking him to look into all of the cases that came before Judge Elwyn in which the Welfare Department participated, and asking that these be looked

Fun, Games With 60 Centuries of Art and Antiques

By HENRIETTA LEITH Associated Press Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Six thousand years of man's arts and handicrafts went on display at Madison Square Garden this week, with the result that a battered coffee can is an antique—and two plastic fried eggs on a skillet is art.

The promoters of the National Arts and Antiques Festival would be the last to take either arts or antiques seriously. In fact, they label their show "fun in art and man's artifacts through 60 centuries."

Art Not Artistic

In this show, "art" doesn't have to be artistic, and an "antique" doesn't even have to be very old—so long as it's fun. If a young man wants to put a loaf of pumpnickel bread in a huge clamp, squeeze it, harden it with a special plastic process and call it a work of art, it may not really be art, but it's fun.

And a cut-plug tobacco tin may not be really old, but it looks old, and it's ordinal for a conversation-piece cookie can.

Pretzel Earrings

So while a dealer who displays a 3,000-B.C. Egyptian glass bowl may grumble about "junk" taking over most of the 300 other dealers happily sell junk to satisfied customers—while the young "bread artist," John Fischer, sells pretzel earrings and cracker brooches.

Junk is having its day because of amendment to the U.S. Tariff Law for which N. H. Mager, director of the festival, was a leading lobbyist.

The amendment says that the term "antique," once applied only to items made before 1830, can now be applied to "objects made in traditional styles and made at least 50 years prior to their date of entry."

Po'keepsie Girl Hurt on Route 9C

A Poughkeepsie man was arrested for reckless driving early today when the light colored sedan he was operating overturned twice on Route 9C at Rhinebeck, resulting in injuries to a passenger in the vehicle.

State Police at Rhinebeck said the accident occurred at 12:05 a. m. today about four-tenths of a mile south of Shultz Hill Road in the Dutchess County community. They identified the driver as Donald W. Johnson, 29, of Maloney Road, Poughkeepsie, and his injured passenger as Florence Williams, 18, of 187 Clark Street, Poughkeepsie. Taken to St. Francis Hospital, Poughkeepsie, by the Rhinebeck Rescue Squad, the Williams girl reportedly suffered possible concussion and internal injuries. Also injured, but not seriously, was another passenger, Dorothy Williams, 16, of the same address.

The accident occurred when the car, traveling north on Route 9C, went off the road via its right front wheel. Trooper William Schamberg, who investigated, said the driver apparently over-corrected, at which point the vehicle spun around, went off the west side of the road and overturned. As the injured girl attempted to get out of the car, it overturned once more and she had to be extricated by the driver.

Johnson will appear before Judge Clarence Traver, of Rhinebeck, to face the reckless driving charge.

News of Fraternal and Civic Organizations

Rondout Commandery 52, Knights Templar, have cancelled its regular stated convocation this Wednesday night due to conflict with Thanksgiving Eve. Next regular convocation will be held Wednesday, Dec. 14.

Rondout Lodge 343, F & AM will hold its regular state communication Monday, 7:30 p. m. in the Masonic Temple, 31 Albany Avenue, at which time Right Worshipful Frank E. Ray Jr., district deputy grand master of Greene-Ulster District will make his official visit. Refreshments will be served in the dining room following the meeting and all master Masons are invited to attend.

Set Prices at Flamingo

The Flamingo Restaurant advertisement appearing in Friday's Freeman was in error in stating that the full-course dinner and the special Thanksgiving menu was being served for $2.75. The only thing for $2.75 is the turkey dinner. The full Thanksgiving menu referred to is the restaurant's regular menu, which includes steaks, chops, etc. Prices on these will vary.

into again in light of this obvious conflict of interest.

"Finally, I have today requested that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare run a complete audit of the way the Welfare Department in Ulster County is expending Federal funds."

"When I first made this case public, I was accused of impugning the integrity of the State of New York judicial system because I questioned Judge Elwyn's right to hear this case, since he is related to Commissioner Fitzsimmons. Today I am completely vindicated, and I deserve a public apology from all those such as Assistant County Attorney Griggs who attacked me. As I have said before, it would be a sad day for America when public officials, either elected or appointed, feel they are above being questioned by the public."

Groom Dies in Fire

BATAVIA, N.Y. (AP)—A groom at Batavia Downs harness race track perished today in a fire that swept a house trailer near the track.

Firemen said Douglas Adams, 22, apparently suffocated. The cause of the fire was not determined.

The trailer was owned by Richard Barber of Orchard Park, a horse-trainer.

Orbiter Radios

Some of the area was so pitted by small craters that it would not serve as a prime target for astronauts expected to fly to the moon within the next two or three years.

"Roughness may be a limiting factor," Dr. Thor Karlstrom, of the U.S. Geological Survey at Flagstaff, Ariz., told a news conference at Jet Propulsion Laboratory.

He said the photographed area, in the dry Sea of Tranquility, on the lunar equator, was not considered as promising as some of the other 13 potential landing sites. Lunar Orbiter 2 will scan during the coming week.

Nonetheless, he said, the three photographs, snapped at a height of 30 miles, are the most valuable yet of the lunar terrain.

Their detail, showing craters as small as three feet across, far exceed details in photographs made by ailing Lunar Orbiter 1 in August and by the Soviet Luna 12 last month.

Some Blurred

Some of the first U.S. Orbiter's pictures were blurred and the others yielded details no smaller than 24 feet across.

The Soviet pictures were taken at a much higher altitude—about 62 miles—and had even less detail.

Lunar Orbiter 1 was deliberately crashed on the moon prior to the second Orbiter launch Nov. 7 to avoid possible conflict of radio signals.

U.S. scientists are hunting for three-by-four-mile sites with several flat spots on which manned craft could land in case mechanical failure prevents their touching down on the exact target.

"There were no crater-free sites this large in the photographs that we have examined so far," Dr. Karlstrom said.

Ahead of Lunar Orbiter 2 are these further scientific goals:

1. Finding safer, smoother sites for manned landings.

2. Closeups of hot spots, detected by infrared photography from earth, which may be volcanoes.

R.J. Helberg, spacecraft director for Boeing Co. of Seattle, Wash., which builds the Lunar Orbiters, said one of these spots is in the Sea of Tranquility and may have been photographed Friday.

These pictures have been stored on film in the spacecraft and are not scheduled to be radioed to earth for several weeks.

mile stretch of North Vietnamese coast.

The offshore bombardment was part of the Navy's Operation "Traffic Con," a month-old drive to halt movement of Communist supplies to South Vietnam by sea.

In the Cambodian border incident, a Vietnamese spokesman said the Cambodian soldier entered the farming community of Thanh Tri, 52 miles west of Saigon in Kien Tuong Province. The spokesman said they remained in Vietnamese territory about one hour.

In the short clash with a platoon of Vietnamese popular forces troops 300 yards from the border, the local militiamen suffered light casualties, the spokesman said. Cambodian casualties were not known.

No Formal Protest

The Vietnamese spokesman said no formal protest has been made. U.S. military spokesmen made no comment on the incident. Some allied officials viewed the intrusion as a rare violation of the frontier, similar to previous border raids.

The delta, south of Saigon, is a fertile rice-producing region and the only large area of South Vietnam that has no major U.S. ground forces. More than half of South Vietnam's 15 million people live there.

The newspaper said Lt. Gen. Dang Van Quang would give command of the 4th Corps in the delta after two years in the job to become minister of planning and development, a post created specially for him. It said he would be replaced in the 4th Corps by Brig. Gen. Nguyen Van Manh, former head of the Vietnamese 23rd Division.

A half-dozen other generals would be reassigned in a shake-up of the military command. Sons said.

In the Tay Ninh Province action, the new fighting today broke out when mechanized company of the U. S. 25th Infantry Division engaged a Viet Cong squad 22 miles north of Tay Ninh City. In the clash, U.S. spokesmen said, 11 Viet Cong were killed and American troops suffered no casualties.

UCC Professor Attends Seminar

Professor Neil N. Whitehurst, chairman of the Division of Business at Ulster County Community College, recently attended the American Management Association's seminar, "Applying the Behavioral Sciences to Management Skills."

The three-day seminar, conducted in New York City, articulated the relationship between behavior science research findings and current management practices. Special emphasis was given to an assessment of managerial and employee performance.

The seminar participants explored the many ways in which the managers' leadership qualities can be improved and strengthened through application of behavioral science concepts.

Key-note speeches were presented by: Dr. Herbert A. Shepard, Director at OSTI Inc., Cambridge, Mass., who spoke on "An Evaluation of Laboratory Training and the Managerial Grid as Organization Development Techniques," and "An Evaluation of Laboratory Training and the Managerial Grid as Organization Development Techniques."

Dr. Herbert H. Myer, consultant on behavioral research, General Electric Company, Crotonville, New York, whose topic was "Company Progress Report - General Electric Behavioral Science Research Studies."

James E. Dunlap, Vice-President-Human Relations, TRW Inc., Cleveland, Ohio, who spoke on "An Evaluation of the Behavioral Science Contributions to the Day-to-Day Management Process."

Dr. David Sirota, Manager of Personnel Research, IBM World Trade Corporation, New York City, whose topic was "Integration Behavioral Science Research into Organizational Action."

Dr. Donald L. Grant, Personnel Research Supervisor of A.T.T., New York City, whose topic was "Use of Psychological Concepts and Tools for Selection Assessment Including the Assessment Center Concept."

Dean C. Dauw, Director of Personnel Research of the Continental Casualty Company, and Continental Assurance Company, Chicago, who spoke on "Creativity in Management."

And, Dr. Dale Zand, Professor of Management, Graduate School of Management, New York University, whose topic was "Behavioral Approaches to Organizational Development."

Professor Whitehurst, representing U.C.C., was one of two educators invited to take part in the seminar which focused on modern management training practices.

"It is encouraging," Professor Whitehurst said, "to participate in sessions such as the AMA's seminar. This seminar reinforced the approach to management training which we use at the College and presented the latest research findings in this field. The growing body of knowledge about human behavior is contributing greatly to the managers' skills and performance. I feel that our students and College can benefit from such experience and we constantly strive to present what is current and practical."

Professor Whitehurst serves as chairman of the Division of Business and under his direction an extremely strong business program has been developed. He has the distinction of being the first members appointed to the faculty of the college when it opened in 1963.

'Women Are Making Greatest Strides Today In Underdeveloped Countries,' Says Speaker

It is in the underdeveloped countries that women are making the greatest strides today in personal and professional advancement, thinks Marietta Tree, American staff member of the United Nations Secretariat. She spoke on "The Changing Role of Women" yesterday afternoon at Dutchess Community College.

Appearing under the sponsorship of the college's Lyceum Series, she stressed that many nations have discovered that the way a country treats its women is an indication of that country's success in obtaining "the good life."

For that reason she believes, "The concept of the woman's place is one of America's greatest exports in the world trade of ideas."

Mrs. Tree urged the women in her audience of students and faculty members to emulate Eleanor Roosevelt, who "did nothing to enhance her own role, but rather carried out every project because it intrinsically needed doing."

Mrs. Tree has served as representative to the Human Rights Commission, a position once held by Mrs. Roosevelt.

Although she believes that great advances have been made during the past century to utilize the talents of women, she feels that the greatest improvements in their status have come in Latin America, Africa, and Asia.

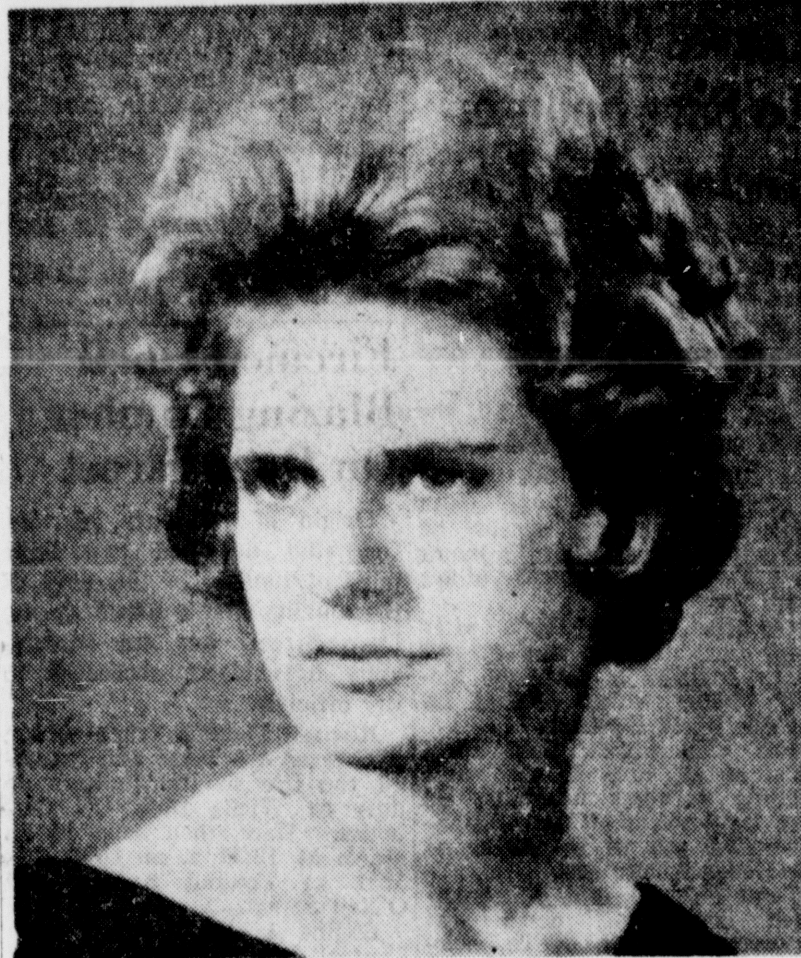

"In the developing countries, if you're educated, you're automatically strive to present what is current and practical."

Professor Whitehurst serves as chairman of the Division of Business and under his direction an extremely strong business program has been developed. He has the distinction of being the first members appointed to the faculty of the college when it opened in 1963.

Ballet Problems Are Resolved; Performances Begin

STRIKE OVER! The New York City Ballet had its delayed premiere for its 43rd Manhattan season Friday, Nov. 18th, 8:15 at the New York State Theater.

A three-day strike of the ballet's orchestra, represented by Local 802 of the American Federation of Musicians, against the ballet company necessitated the cancelling of the first three performances of the season, which was to have opened last Tuesday. Tickets held for the canceled performances can be exchanged for a future date or refunded at the box office of the New York State Theater. Five weeks of repertory, 41 performances of "The Nutcracker" and 14 performances of "Don Quixote" will be included in the fall-winter season.

Next Monday evening the company will participate in a showcase performance sponsored by the Friends of City Center, "City Center on Parade." Three resident companies of the City Center of Music and Drama—the New York City Opera, the New York City Ballet and the City Center Light Opera—will present a unique performance before an invited audience at the New York State Theater. They will unite their talents for this one evening in performing highlights from their respective repertories. Theodore Sorenson, former special assistant to the late President Kennedy, will be the keynote for the evening.

Firms which have supported a new Corporate Sponsorship program established by the Friends of the City Center will receive tickets as the specially honored guests for the performance and reception following.

Rondout Valley Art Guild

A talk on the 17th Century School of Dutch paintings will be given by Gary Siamon at the next meeting of the Rondout Valley Art Guild Monday, Nov. 21 at 8:30 p. m. in Wenig's Restaurant, Nanpoch.

Non-members as well as members are invited.

Mr. Siamon, vice president and a founding member of the group, is teaching in the Ellenville Central School. He did graduate study in Art History at Brooklyn College and studied painting at the Brooklyn Museum Art School.

There will be group discussion after the lecture.

The Vikings built ships as long as 300 feet.

A LIVING GOD

A healing understanding of God's love is within reach of every man, woman, and child. The Christian Science church services, where you are always welcome, unfold this understanding.

A Thanksgiving Day service which will include testimonies of gratitude for the practical results of such understanding will be held Thursday Nov. 24 at 10:30 a. m. Nursery care is available.

Dear Abby . . . Problem Is Merely 'Boyological'

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A girl telephoned and asked me if I would take her out on Saturday night to make her boy friend jealous. This girl is 18 and is very, very good looking. Long blond hair, terrific figure and the works! I had nothing better to do and thought it might be fun so I said yes.

I am 21 years old, have a new car and am not exactly a creep. Well, Abby, I fell for this girl, knowing all along that she was only using me. Is there something the matter with me?

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of those mini skirts?

DEAR WONDERING: They're all right if the girl doesn't have magna legs.

DEAR ABBY: What can be done about a mother who allows herself to be used by her daughter as an unpaid servant, and then turns around and complains to all her relatives? The woman happens to be my mother, and it is getting on my nerves. When my sister asks her to sit with her children for an evening, afternoon, or for weeks at a time while she and her husband go off on vacations, "Good Old Mom" can't get there fast enough. Then she complains to all the relatives about how hard the kids are to handle, and how dirty Sis' house was before she dug in and cleaned it up.

And worse yet, she says, "Never again!" But just let Sis ask her, and "Good Old Mom" is over there working like a horse. Any suggestions?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Tell "Good Old Mom" that if she wants to sit, stand, or roll over for her daughter, it's all right with you. But you'd rather not hear any complaints about it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "NOT UNDERSTOOD": From your letter I would suggest that you thank your lucky stars that your wife doesn't understand you. If she did, you'd be in more trouble than you are now.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, California, 90069. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Entertaining Coach House Play Will Give Final Performance Tonight; 8:30 Curtain

By DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

The pro's and con's of whether one remains true to oneself, to his wife, to his profession, receive light entertaining treatment in the Coach House production of "Critics' Choice," which opened Thursday night at the George Washington School and will conclude tonight.

The Ira Levin comedy is directed by William Skilling, now in his fifth season with the little theatre group. During these past five years, Skilling has brought Coach House up the ladder of achievement with several successful productions including popular musicals.

Dixon McGrath, cast as a leading newspaper critic, and Bill Williams, as a "Peter Pan" type director, breathe life into the light comedy.

McGrath, who has many little theatre credits, reaches his stride during the third act in this particular play. His "drunk" scene is exceptionally well done and the overall smooth treatment of the part is inescapable. McGrath has charmed audiences in such vehicles as "A Visit to a Small Planet," "Finians Rainbow" and "Teahouse of the August Moon."

His current interpretation of a critic who must review his wife's play is a plus credit for Coach House. It was expected that McGrath would do a fine job and he did.

The evening's most satisfying surprise, however, was the spirited and extremely comical performance turned in by Coach House newcomer Bill Williams. His effervescent "Peter Pan" characterization turns all the "go-go" lights on when he is on stage and gives the play a sound springboard to success. Williams, who is program director for WKNY in Kingston, brings a great deal of experience to his association with Coach House. He has appeared in the leads of several plays in Syracuse, N. Y., Harrisburg and Easton, Pa. He played the lead in "Music Man" and had major roles in "Abraham Lincoln in Illinois," "The Visit," "Sunrise at Campobello" and "Come Blow Your Horn." I hope we will see a lot more of Williams in future Coach House productions. The man has talent.

June Boyle, who portrays the critic's wife, does a convincing job along with Janet Hornbeck, who is cast as the critic's mother-in-law. Miss Boyle has appeared in a number of Coach House productions and is a member of the group's board of directors. Miss Hornbeck, another new member, gained a good deal of stage experience in college productions. She even worked with Children's Drama during her service with the Peace Corps in South America and last season, she appeared in the chorus of "Guys and Dolls" for Coach House.

Geoffrey Kunz, the youngest member of the staff who is cast as the son, does a creditable job and Arlette Miller, the critic's ex-wife, sufficiently fills the role of a sexy, affected individual.

Doris Urell has a bit part in this play but she makes her appearance a delightful one. A member of the Coach House board of directors, Miss Urell has been seen in productions here since 1961.

Generally speaking, the local production of "Critics' Choice" has a slow beginning with action picking up in the second and third acts. A little more sparkle in act one is all that's needed to make it a completely entertaining evening.

And what would a Coach House play be without the magnificent sets made under the technical direction of Ralph Harper. He and his staff have created a luxury apartment on the staff of the George Washington School. Too bad it has to come down.

A round of applause for the backstage "artists" without whom any play is impossible. They include Mary Becker, Betty Lindsey, stage setting; Cordelia Feltman, Lyn DePallo, costumes; Barbara Seissler, Elizabeth Askue, make-up; George Betts, publicity; Victor Fletcher, Kay Fletcher, play program; Louise Pomeroy, art director; Pat Bottino, associate membership; Frank Polcano, Elizabeth Askue, play reading; Ray Caddy, scholarship; Hilda Krum, single tickets; and Margaret Mellert, ushers.

On February 2-4 in 1967, Coach House will present "The Two Mrs. Carralls" and their current theatrical season will conclude with the musical "Pajama Game," May 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 of 1967.

The last performance of "Critics' Choice" is scheduled for tonight at 8:30. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

Library Schedules Forgiveness Week

Kingston Library has scheduled Thanksgiving week Nov. 21 through 26 for the return of overdue books by delinquent borrowers. No accumulated fines will be paid on those days.

According to Director Robert Neal books will be accepted no matter how long overdue. He said it is hoped that in this way some 50 volumes, many loaned out some time ago, will be returned.

The library will be closed Thanksgiving Day. Weekly hours are from 12:30 to 9 p. m. and Saturday 1 to 5 p. m.

BRUNSWICK STEW—With the aid of frozen ingredients—chicken, onion, lima beans, corn and okra—this hearty stew can be prepared quickly and easily. Traditional accompaniments include rice or rice potatoes, corn muffins and cole slaw.

Streamlined Approach to Tasty Stew

Brunswick Stew was a main attraction at political rallies, family reunions and other large gatherings in the early 1800's. As with so many famous recipes, there are conflicting stories regarding its beginning. One of the best-documented versions, however, credits Brunswick County, Virginia, as the place of its origin.

According to it, the hearty dish was created for a political rally sponsored by Dr. Creed Haskins, a member of the Virginia state legislature, in 1828. It was developed as a new variation of the then popular squirrel stew. In addition to squirrel, it contained hens, meat and a wide assortment of vegetables and seasonings. Gradually squirrel disappeared from the recipe and chicken became the major ingredient.

This updated version of the stew is made the short-cut way with convenient frozen ingredients, including frozen chopped onion, chicken parts, corn, lima beans and Okra. Corn muffins, also available in frozen food cabinets, cole slaw and rice or rice potatoes are traditional accompaniments. For dessert, an excellent choice is a home-baked fruit pie—baked, of course, the modern way with the aid of a frozen fruit pie.

Brunswick Stew
4 strips bacon, diced
1 cup frozen chopped onion
2 packages (1 pound each) frozen chicken breasts or thighs, thawed and cut into small pieces
3 cups canned chicken broth
2 cans (1 pound each) tomatoes
1 package (10 ounces) frozen kernel corn
1 package (10 ounces) frozen baby lima beans
1 package (10 ounces) frozen okra, cut into 1/2-inch slices
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons flour
4 cup water

In a Dutch oven, saute bacon until crisp. Remove bacon and drain on absorbent paper. Add onion and saute until golden. Add chicken and cook over low heat, stirring frequently, until chicken is golden brown and tender. Add chicken broth and tomatoes. Bring to boil. Cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes. Add corn, lima beans and okra. Continue to cook for another 30 minutes. Add Worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Blend flour with water; stir into stew. Cook, stirring until liquid bubbles and thickens slightly. Sprinkle crisp bacon over stew. Serve with rice or whipped or rice potatoes.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Kerhonkson School

The Kerhonkson Elementary School Parent Teachers Association will hold its second meeting at the school on Tuesday, Nov. 22 at 7:30 p. m. A special three fold program has been planned for this evening.

First, to help both new and old members understand the aims, objectives and goals of the Parent Teachers Association, the newly elected officers will explain their roles. Secondly, guest speaker Mrs. Donald Roosa, Clintonville, assistant director of the Southern Ulster County P-TA from the Taconic District, will report on the activities of other local P-TA's and answer questions. Finally, a review of the questionnaire sent to parents for their ideas and interests for P-TA program will be done and future programs planned accordingly.

This promises to be a most stimulating evening for all parents who are interested in their school, their community and their children.

Koufax Retires Rather Than Risk Permanent Injury to Arm

SPORTS

By CHARLES J. TIANO

Freeman Sports Editor

The most devious form of tenpin manipulation, the black art of sandbagging, is coming under intensive official scrutiny these days.

Very simply, a sandbagger is a person who deliberately and consistently bowls under his normal potential in order to build up a large individual handicap and make "kills" in tournaments, sweepstakes and key matches.

It is not a new form of tenpin chicanery. It has plagued the sport since its beginnings. But with the tremendous growth of bowling, more and more richer sweepstakes and tournaments, the TV bonanza and numerous other financial blandishments, the "sandbagging" practice has grown at an alarming rate.

Perhaps psychologists can explain why normally honest citizens resort to such sharp practices once they don their bowling shirt.

• Down to Local Level

The American Bowling Congress, parent body of male bowling in the country, has come to the conclusion that the problem must be dealt with severely. And, in effect, it has said to member leagues: This is basically your problem and you're going to have to deal with it.

A new ABC rule authorizes city associations or specially appointed re-rating committees to re-rate the league average of any individual when there is evidence that his average does not represent the bowler's true ability.

The emphasis against sandbagging has come on the local level," says an ABC directive. Which means that somebody has to accuse somebody else of deliberately dodging it in order to keep one's average down. That's where the fun begins. That's why sandbagging is as rampant as it is. You've read front page stories about good American citizens refusing to lend assistance to other citizens being assaulted, robbed and murdered. Nobody wants to get involved. Sandbagging survives because bowlers, who are people, have shown extreme reluctance to blow the whistle on a fellow competitor.

• It Takes 600 Series Now

It now takes at least 601 to make the women's high ten honor roll and a minimum 690 for men. There were only minimum changes since the last roll. Big Bob Sheltner moved into seventh place with 695. Kathy DeCicco's 604 put her in eighth place. Ed Magyar joined the select group with a 279 solo.

Add Elizabeth Smith to the new swingers among women—a 168.13 average in the Bowlerama Quads. Is Wayne Zahn, 25, bowling's newest glamor boy? He averaged 219 over 60 games to capture the 1966 Professional Bowlers Association championship and is the year's top money winner. . . Kathy DeCicco's 604 this week was the same as her career-first rolled last season. . . Veteran Nick Leone rolled 1336 six-game set on 704-632. . . Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis posted 699 in exhibition at Middletown, Burton holds the world's record for six games (1539) on lines of 300, 259, 247, 249, 257, 227. . . Allie Brandt's all-time ABC sanctioned league record of 886, rolled back in 1939, has been challenged twice in the past year. First it was Teata Semiz, the New Jersey hotshot, who smashed 299, 268, 300 for 867. Then recently, Carl Wilsing of Sheboygan, Wis., inched closer with 876 on 298, 300 and 278. A solid 10-pin tap in the 30th frame deprived him of a new world record.

Rookie End Hurt

Browns Minus Morin For Redskin Contest

By HAL BUCK

Milt Morin, Cleveland's rookie tight end and one of the brightest first year men in the National Football League, will miss Sunday's game against Washington because of a bruised bone in his right leg.

But the Browns have nothing to worry about. Just ask Ralph Smith, Morin's replacement. "I am faster than Mike Ditka, I can block better than Ron Kramer and I can run patterns as well as Pete Retzlaff," said Smith, who'll be making his first start of the season against the Redskins.

Obviously, the Browns have had an All-NFL player sitting on the end of the bench all season.

Smith, called Catfish by his teammates, has shown marked improvement this year. He's caught six passes, two for touchdowns. That's six catches more than he made all last year. And it's only 16 fewer receptions than Morin has had and only one less TD.

Catfish took over for Morin last week and suffered a broken nose late in the game against Philadelphia. But he'll be in Sunday's starting lineup and if he's all the things he says he is, the Redskins will know about it pretty fast.

In other games Sunday, Chicago plays at Green Bay, Baltimore visits Detroit, Dallas is at Pittsburgh, Los Angeles entertains Minnesota, Philadelphia is at San Francisco and Atlanta is in New York.

Bavasi Is Bitter He Did Not Wait For O'Malley

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A tremendous question mark hovers over the future of the National League champion Dodgers. Sandy Koufax has retired.

Superb Sandy, acclaimed as perhaps the greatest left hand pitcher in baseball history and certainly the finest in the major leagues today, made official Friday what had long been rumored.

At 30, after his winningest season, Koufax is retiring rather than pitch another season with the pain of his chronically arthritic left elbow.

"I feel I can't risk the chance of completely disabling myself," the handsome dark-haired pitcher told a news conference in Beverly Hills.

"I was told that if I kept on pitching I could do a good job of permanent damage."

"I've got a lot of years to live after baseball and I want to be sure of the complete use of my body."

Earned $125,000

Koufax earned a reported $125,000 in 1966 with the Los Angeles club, and could have commanded much more for 1967.

But money comes a poor second to a bad arm and, said Sandy, the Dodgers couldn't offer enough to make him continue to play—or change his mind about retiring.

"My decision is irrevocable." Technically, Sandy asked to be placed on the club's voluntary retired list, which, said Dodgers vice president E. J. (Buzze) Bavasi, makes the Koufax retirement automatic.

Bavasi did not attend the Koufax-called press conference and was indeed sharply critical because Sandy declined to wait to make the announcement until Dodgers president Walter F. O'Malley returns home from Japan Sunday.

SANDY KOUFAX

"I think he owed Walter the courtesy of waiting," said Bavasi. "What was three more days?"

"After all," Bavasi exclaimed, "Walter made it possible for Sandy to retire at the age of 30."

Sandy's Explanation

Advised of Bavasi's reaction, Koufax said he had wanted to make the disclosure before Bavasi left for a two-week vacation in Hawaii, but Buzze persuaded him not to. Bavasi felt he could make a better deal with Sandy still on the roster—at the league meetings in December.

Koufax said he told Bavasi late in the season he was 90 per cent sure this would be his last, and in the last month he told Bavasi he was 100 per cent sure of it.

"There's no question Sandy did the right thing—but he should have waited a few more days," Bavasi conceded.

But Koufax observed: "My only regret after 12 years in baseball is leaving it."

He surprised listeners when he said he has no real plans for the future. He said he'd like to stay in Los Angeles and he might be interested in remaining in baseball as a radio or television commentator.

At least one New York radio station put in a quick bid for him.

"But I wouldn't want to travel with a club when I knew I couldn't pitch," he added.

Injured In 1964

The elbow trouble started in a game at Milwaukee Aug. 8, 1964, when he skidded on it while sliding back to second base on a teammate's missed bunt.

"I'm not generally in the area of second base," Sandy quipped. A good hitter he is not.

Koufax retired with a host of Cy Young Awards, which no other hurler has won more than once—and four times he pitched no-hit, no-run games, one a perfect box.

Baseball's strikeout king fanned more than 300 batters in three different years; he was the winningest pitcher the past three, with a 27-9 in 1965—bum arm and all. He also beat the New York Yankees twice and the Minnesota Twins twice in World Series games.

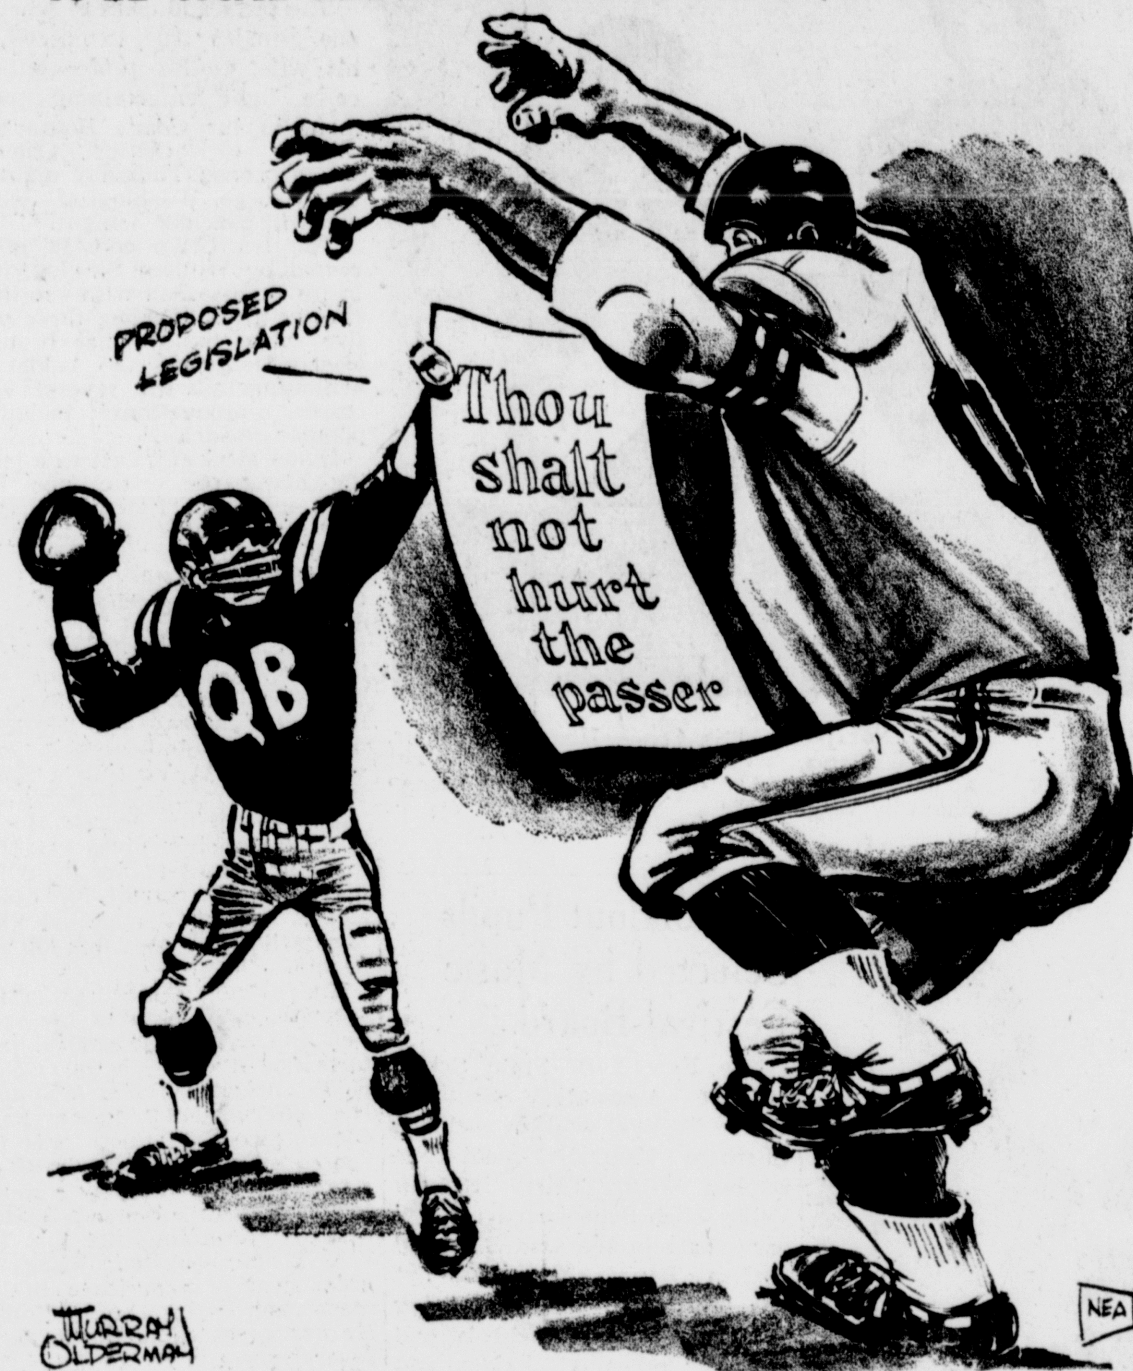

Sees Dodgers Winning

What about the Dodgers without him next year?

"Some one will take my place. Maybe the Dodgers will need a fourth starting pitcher, but if they can come up with another kid like Don Sutton, they'll be all right," he replied.

Sandy, with hearty laughter, admitted the Dodgers had made

Miami Boosts Bowl Chances

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Miami Hurricanes, continuing a November blitz that stamps them as one of the nation's toughest teams, smashed Iowa 44-0 Friday with an attack that may have attracted the attention of the bowl scouts.

Alternating at quarterback, Bill Miller and David Olivo directed a ground-air assault that piled up 428 yards, while Miami's magnificent defense kept the Hawkeyes under strict control.

The Hurricanes had slipped early in the season, losing two games to Louisiana State and Florida State by a grand total of five points.

Then coach Charlie Tate's brawlers, coming on like gangbusters, whipped two of the top ten teams—Southern California and Georgia—and have a 6-2 record going into next Saturday's big one with Florida.

Miller, hitting seven of 10 passes for 127 yards in the first 21 minutes, directed the Hurricanes to a 21-0 lead, with John Acuff scoring once from the four and Joe Mira twice from the 19 and the seven.

Returning briefly in the third, Miller hit Larry LaPointe with a 10-yard scoring pass. Then David Olivo concluded the touchdown barrage with throws of four yards to Don Russo and five yards to Jim Cox in the final period.

Olivo, usually a running quarterback, hit seven of 10 passes for 63 yards.

Mira Leads Rushes

Joe Mira, brother of Miami's All-America George Mira now with the San Francisco 49ers, led the Hurricane rushers with 65 yards, followed closely by Acuff and Bob Donke. Cox hauled in six passes and Russo five.

The score was the biggest piled up by a Miami team since 1955, when the Hurricanes beat Bucknell 46-0.

"Our pass execution was exceptionally good tonight," Tate said. "Miller was razor sharp, as good as he's ever been. And Olivo came on strong late in the game. Mira, Acuff and Donke gave us a strong running game, too."

"Bowl game? Who knows. We might get some kind of an offer Monday."

The top games tonight match Tulane and Louisiana State in a Southeastern Conference battle, Texas Western and New Mexico State, Arizona and Iowa State and Arizona State and New Mexico.

no move to keep him on as a hitter.

Meanwhile, praise for dandy Sandy came from all areas of baseball.

In Tokyo, owner O'Malley said the club will not try to dissuade Koufax from his decision. "We wish Sandy great happiness and good health in retirement."

Manager Walter Alston, who is concluding a tour of Japan with the Dodgers, observed: "He was possibly the greatest pitcher ever in baseball. I hate to see him go."

And Leo Eurocher, Chicago Cubs' manager and former Dodger manager and coach, declared: "He's the best pitcher I've ever seen. There's no chance the Dodgers can win the pennant now."

Kickers Ready For Round Test

A share of second place in the League Division of the German-American Soccer Association is the target for Kingston Sport Club Kickers when they meet second place White Plains Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at Oehler's Mountain Lodge.

Kingston targets White Plains by one point and a win would put the m past the Westchester squad. Bridgeport, in first place, leads Kingston by three points. One of the best games of the season is expected.

The 29-year-old Canadian and Gardner Dickinson, Jr., another thin man who looks like he just came out of a pencil sharpener, shared the halfway lead by a stroke at 136-six under par—in the pressure-packed pursuit of $110,000 in prize money.

Knudson is fresh from his victory last week over Jack Nicklaus and Arnie Palmer, among other internationalists, in the individual part of the Canada Cup competition at Tokyo.

Like Palmer and Nicklaus, the 5-foot-10, 145-pound Toronto pro has been having trouble adjusting his sleep to the day-night turn-around from Tokyo.

"I took a sleeping pill Wednesday night and I did fine with a 68," said Knudson. So he took another Thursday night and shot another 68 Friday.

Before anyone could ask if he was going to take any more pills, Knudson said:

"Yes, I'm going to take them here as long as I'm shooting like this."

Knudson had five birdies and two bogeys in registering a three under-par 34-34-68 to go with his opening 68.

Dickinson Cards 69

Dickinson, a 5-foot-11, 130-pounder from Alabama but playing out of Los Tree Village, Fla., pitched his way to a four-under-par 35-32-67 to go with his 69.

The 7,115-yard, par 35-71 Cypress Creek course of the Champions Golf Club took a severe pounding on the second of two sunny days.

Don Sanders, with 70-67, and Gene Littler, with 71-66, were just a stroke off the pace with 137.

There were eight at 138 including Arnie Palmer, who had a fine 34-34-68 with his opening 68. The others in the challenging bracket were Al Geiberger, Julius Boros, Dick Crawford, Charles Sifford, Jack Ruie, Jr., Bob Goalby, and Jack Burke, co-owner of the host club.

The 139 group included Billy Casper, Miller Barber and George Archer. Casper, with a 36-34-70, picked up a stroke on Nicklaus, who said he played "lousy" in getting a par 37-34-71. Nicklaus had 140.

Clarkson Pucksters

Top Canadians, 3-0

POTSDAM, N.Y. (AP)—Clarkson College, runner-up to Michigan State in the NCAA hockey finals last year, was off to a running start with a 3-0 victory over Laval of Quebec.

The Clarkson stickmen were led by John Miller who stood guard at the goal, while Brian Dooling, Bob Empey and Brian Rowley each scored.

Laval goalie Jacques Andy made 35 stops.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Bob Fischer of New York beat Cuba's Eleazar Jimenez in 32 moves in the World Chess Olympics Friday.

At Bowlerama

48 Vie in Tournament For Match Play Title

First round action in the Kingston City Individual Match Game bowling tournament starts Sunday at 1 p. m. at Ferraro's Bowlerama.

A field of 48 bowlers will vie for the unofficial title of match game champion of Kingston.

There are six openings on the 1 p. m. squad and all interested bowlers are asked to contact the Ferraro Bowlerama. The 24-man 3 p. m. squad for Sunday is full.

The tournament is open to all bowlers in the Kingston area.

The original field of 48 bowlers will roll six games each at the new 12-lane addition at the Bowlerama. The eight high scorers will then compete in single elimination three-game matches until the champion is crowned.

There will be trophy awards for the winners. The original entry fee is the only one required regardless of how far the bowler advances.

Mayone Leads on 631 Slam

Bing Hits Bingo With 35 Points In Piston Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Pistons' consolation award is beginning to make them glad they didn't win first prize.

Rookie Dave Bing, whom the Pistons picked in the National Basketball Association draft when they lost Cazzie Russell by a flip of the coin to New York, had his best night in the NBA Friday, scoring 35 points and leading Detroit to a 121-118 victory over Los Angeles.

Detroit Coach Dave DeBusschere, once distraught at losing Russell, now says of Bing, "I haven't been around many kids coming in with an attitude like his."

But it isn't Bing's attitude that has been helping the Pistons of late. The former Syracuse star pumped in 24 points in the second half, bringing the Pistons back from a 63-54 halftime deficit.

Bing got his first start Thursday in a Detroit victory over New York and scored 20 points. He could be in the starting lineup for some time to come.

In other NBA games, Philadelphia crushed Chicago 145-120 and Boston beat Baltimore 143-119.

The Pistons and Lakers were tied 10 times in the final period before Ray Scott dropped in a pair of free throws and DeBusschere put in four more, putting the game out of reach.

Wilt Chamberlain, Billy Cunningham and Wally Jones were the 76ers past the Bulls. Philadelphia took a 70-48 halftime lead and breezed home. Chamberlain scored 24 points, but Cunningham was high with 25. Jones had 20.

The Celtics broke open a tie late in the first period and outscored the Bulls 17-1 at one point in the second quarter. Sam Jones led the Celtics with 27 points, and teammate John Havlicek had 26.

TORONTO (AP) — Frank Chapot of Wallpack, N.J., and Neal Shapiro of Glen Head, N.Y., finished 1-2 Friday in the One Chance Stakes, moving the United States team within six points of first-place Canada in international jumping competition.

TIGHT MONEY SALES ARE OFF

Because of these conditions FOREST PARK HOME is offering a

FREE COLOR TELEVISION SET

to be delivered with the purchase of each new home up to $25,000. "Tight money" has resulted in our being unable to build up an inventory of houses for the winter for spring delivery. However, where there is a purchaser. In FOREST PARK we build the most advanced designs of homes in the area. There are furnished models from low-long-range to New England Colonials, for on site or off site construction. Family rooms are richly paneled and off the kitchen and living room. Kitchens are country sized. All these homes are bright and cheerful for living.

MORTGAGE MONEY IS AVAILABLE AT FOREST PARK

Models may be seen at Red Hook, Route 9G at the approach to the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge. We are located in the beautiful Rhinecliff School District and in the most beautiful residential section of Dutchess or Ulster County.

You may never be able to buy a house of this type in as favorable conditions as you may today. In Spring, prices must be raised to meet ever increasing costs.

Caught Holding

An Illegal Deer

Arrested Friday night by State Police from the Highland barracks for a violation of the Conservation Law and illegal possession of a deer was Jack Bradley Cox, 24, of West Park.

According to Trooper Benvenise and Conservation Officer Roberts, who investigated, Cox's car struck a deer on Route 32 in Cornwall. Instead of contacting his nearest police agency to get a temporary permit for possession of a deer, as required by law, Cox transported the deer to his home, charged with illegal possession of the animal under Section 234 of the Conservation Law, he appeared before Justice of the Peace John Beaver, of Esopus, to enter a plea of guilty.

The case was settled civilly when Cox paid a $10 fine and $2.50 in court fees.

Cleared of Murder Charge

ALBION, N.Y. (AP) — A 25-year-old migrant worker has been freed of a manslaughter charge in the shooting of a man who, State Police said, had wounded his brother with a knife.

An Orleans County grand jury declined Thursday to indict M.C. Coley in the death of Robert L. Lias, who was felled by a shotgun blast in a restaurant driveway at nearby Kent the night of Oct. 14.

Troopers said Lias, 26, of Albion, had stabbed Coley's brother, William, earlier in the evening during a disputed dice game at a labor camp in Kent.

Coley of Kent, was arrested on a charge of first-degree manslaughter early the next day.

VFW Auxiliary Plans for Yule

The local VFW Auxiliary can look forward to two exceptional busy months ahead. On a night to be arranged shortly with Veterans Hospital, a bus will be chartered to carry all VFW members, their guests and any Saugerties resident who would like to participate in caroling to bring Christmas cheer to hospitalized veterans. Although the date is not yet set, the bus will leave VFW Hall here at 5:15 p. m. and full details for those interested will be furnished by Mrs. Prendergast.

The VFW Post, its Auxiliary and the Dads group will also hold a joint Christmas party with plans to be handled by the Post. A buffet luncheon is being planned for Dec. 3 and help is needed for this banquet by the dining room chairman, Mrs. Dorothy Wood.

The Auxiliary has voted donations for the Castle Point open house on New Year's Day and for the VFW National Home Christmas seals. Plans are being made to award a set of free license plates at the January meeting and to attend the Hudson Valley County Council meeting in Kingston Dec. 4 for the Department President's visit.

Announcement has been made that a total of $184.28 was spent in October for supplies and goods for the hospital and that members donated 28 volunteer hours on their work day there and during the Halloween carnival, in which for the first time — Vietnamese patients participated. The Saugerties Auxiliary sponsored a game at the carnival.

Christmas in July. A "Christmas in July" fund was started from successful returns of the recent Halloween bake sale, said Mrs. Isabel Delle, who thanked all those who donated articles for this event. Committees are now being set up to be in charge of handmade articles for Yule giving and decorating for next summer's special event.

Residents are also reminded that the Past Presidents of VFW are currently selling cookies and decorated bars of soap for holiday gifts.

The December meeting of the Auxiliary will be held on the first Wednesday of the month so as not to conflict with the Christmas bedside bingo on the second Wednesday. Members recently went to Castle Point for such a bingo event for patients.

The December business meeting will also include a Christmas party and members are asked to bring a low-priced gift for the grab bag.

Colleen Buono Receives Good Citizen Award

Colleen A. Buono, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Buono, has been named winner of the Good Citizen Award, sponsored by Saugerties Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Annually, girls in the senior class of Saugerties Central Schools vote to select three girls from the class for the award. From this trio, the faculty chooses one winner, basing the award on dependability, service, leadership and patriotism.

Miss Buono's school principal has called her "a lovely girl who is a credit to her school in a quiet and unobtrusive manner." She has been active in many school activities, including Girls Cheer Leaders, of which she is co-captain;

if successful, at the District level, the contestant's essay will progress to a Multiple District level for judging. "For the specific contest rules and requirements, applicants should contact any of the members of the Saugerties Lions Club, or me at 5 Hemlock Court, Saugerties," Buchanan said. The contest is open to all young people who are 14 years of age and under 22 as of Jan. 15.

The ultimate winning essay will be presented at the Lions International 50th annual convention in Chicago as one of the highlights of the Association's golden anniversary year.

Trappist Jam Sale

Rosary Society of St. Mary of the Snow, Saugerties, will sponsor a sale of Trappist jams and jellies this weekend. The sale will be held Saturday, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the Grand Union store, Market Street.

Seasonably Cool Weather Prevails All Over Country

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's weather pattern showed only minor changes today, with continued cool temperatures in the North Central region and readings generally near normal or above in most other areas.

The mercury early today dropped to near zero — 4 above — at Hibbing, in Northern Minnesota, but a few hours later climbed to 8 above. Readings were mostly in the teens in many sections of the Upper Mississippi Valley.

More rain and strong winds hit areas along the Northern and Central Pacific Coast. More than 1/2 inch of rain fell in a six-hour period at Cape Blanco, Ore., during the night.

Only other precipitation was in sections from the Ozarks into Kentucky, with showers, and snow flurries from northern Minnesota across the Great Lakes to the northern Appalachians.

Skies were mostly clear in the Southern Tier of states from southern California to Florida. Temperatures were unseasonably mild, in the 60s and 70s, in many parts of the Gulf States. Cooler weather was indicated in Eastern and Southern sections, and a little warmer from the Central and Northern Plains into Minnesota and Iowa.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 8 above at Hibbing, Minn., to 83 at Key West, Fla.

Colder Air Weekend Fare

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, as prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Saturday through Wednesday:

Temperatures will turn colder over the weekend and warm again Monday or Tuesday. Seasonal temperatures are expected to prevail and snow flurries are likely.

Daytime highs will be in the mid 30s and low 40s in the west and north and in the 40s in the southeast during the weekend. Nighttime lows will be in the teens and mid 20s.

1 Cited; 2 Are Injured in Five Area Accidents

A rash of minor traffic accidents kept State Police from the Lake Katrine barracks busy late Friday afternoon and early this morning. Troopers said the first in a series of five auto mishaps occurred Friday at 4 p. m. on Route 9W, one-half mile south of Route 199; involved two cars driven by Joseph Rinaldo, 23, of Mt. Marion, and William Lenski, 44, of Cairo. The Rinaldo car was traveling south on 9W and making a right turn when the Lenski vehicle ran into it. No injuries were reported, but Lenski was given a summons for unsafe tires and will appear later before Justice of the Peace Arthur Reilly, Town of Ulster.

A 5:15 p. m. Friday accident on Route 209 at the Sawkill Road involved a car driven by William Kopf, 24, of Lucas Avenue, Kingston. Troopers said he was headed south on Route 209 when a deer jumped from the right side of the road into the path of the car. No injuries or arrests were reported, but Kopf claimed the deer took it home.

A second on Route 9W, just north of Route 199, took place Friday at 6 p. m.; was a one-car mishap involving William Romei, 24, of Saugerties, who ran off the side of the road and overturned once. Romei was uninjured and was not cited by investigating officers.

At 12:05 a. m. today, another driver ran off the right side of the road on Route 213, Town of Esopus. He was John Lima Jr., 19, of Tillson, who suffered no injuries and received no summons.

Another one-car accident was investigated at 4 a. m. today on Morgan Hill Road, Town of Hurley, about one mile south of Route 28A. Troopers said the driver was Helen Beesmer, 21, of Kingston, who suffered abrasions of the scalp and possible shoulder injuries. A passenger in the car, Carol Ortlieb, 25, also of Kingston, suffered lacerations of the scalp, abrasions of the knee and possible shoulder injury. Both were treated at Benedictine Hospital. No arrests were made and investigating authorities said the car apparently ran off the right side of the highway while going south on Morgan Hill Road.

Report Port Even Boy Still Missing

No new leads had developed today in the search by local authorities for a 14-year-old Port Even boy, who has been missing from his home since Wednesday.

Still attempting to locate the boy, James Moore, son of John and Annette Moore, are State Police in the area, men from the Ulster County Sheriff's Office and Kingston police. The youth was last seen Wednesday near the Myron J. Michael School and, at that time, was wearing brown trousers, gray sweater, a green zippered jacket and gray shoes.

On Thursday, his father made a public plea for the boy to come home or contact his family. He described his son as five feet, eight inches tall, weighing 170 pounds and having brown hair and blue eyes. Moore, who said the family was tremendously upset by Jim's disappearance, also noted that the boy recently suffered a broken collarbone and still wears a brace under his clothing which gives him an unnatural humplike appearance.

State Police locally were also alerted today to be on the lookout for a 15-year-old boy, who was reported missing from his Rosendale home since Friday at 3 p. m. His name and description were not released for publication at this time, but it was noted that the youth had argued earlier with one of his parents, which probably led to his disappearance.

Modern Plan Keeps Foot Traffic From Homemaker

By JACK McEENEY

"The Lamont" calls for a modern style home 31 by 40 feet overall, and a garage and breezeway adding another 20 feet. It has four bedrooms, enough for the average American family and an overnight guest or two.

Without cutting corners, without sacrificing comfort, without subtracting from its inherent beauty, this home can be your pride and joy. You step into a living room 12½ by 21 feet that has a window wall and fireplace, and a good deal of wall space against which to set your furniture. Through an archway you can reach the dining room, kitchen, bath or bedroom hall. Foot traffic is deliberately kept to one side of a room in order not to interfere with anything that may be going on. In sheets and pillowcases almost within arm's reach from bath to bedrooms.

There's nothing skimmed in the bedrooms, either in size or closet space. The master bedroom, bigger than 14 feet square, has two closets. Two upstairs bedrooms have their own bath and linen closet; one of the rooms, in fact, gets additional light through its front dormer. A shed dormer in back provides space for a full-size bathroom. Since one is right over the other, there will be no waste in the plumbing lines. In building it would be most economical to run the extra lines through the walls, even if the second floor rooms will be finished later.

I think most would-be home owners are aware of the advantages of having a breezeway. It sets apart the garage — which tends to get somewhat oily — from the house itself. Summers it can be used as a shelter play area. Enclose the breezeway yourself at some later time and you have an extra room. Finally, the extra spread its gives to a small house gives the overall impression of near-mansion proportions.

The living area on the first floor totals 1,160 square feet; the second floor, 400 square feet. Actually, for relatively little more money you nearly triple your floor area when you have a second story and basement.

Plans for "The Lamont," which may be obtained at nominal cost by filling in the accompanying coupon, call for construction of a basement. High standards have gone into the design for this home. It will pass an FHA inspection, so often needed when it comes to a mortgage. Electrical wiring follows the National Electrical Code. You may build the house of brick veneer, concrete block or the wood siding shown in the artist's sketch. The same set of blueprints shows all three. With the drawings you'll receive, at no extra charge a set of specifications to help protect your interests.

Accident Causes Blackout Through Rosendale Area

A one-car accident early this morning on Route 213 about one mile west of the Village of Rosendale resulted in a power blackout for residents of the area. The blackout lasted for several hours before Central Hudson repairmen could restore electricity to homes and businesses effected.

According to State Police at the Ellenville barracks the accident occurred at 2:05 a. m. today when a car owned and operated by Edward Rion, 27, of Route 213, Stone Ridge, and headed west on Route 213 towards High Falls, rounded a sharp right hand turn, ran off the left side of the road and broke a Central Hudson electric pole. The driver was uninjured in the mishap but power in the area was off until after dawn. Investigating at the scene was Trooper C. R. Larson, who issued a summons to Rion for failure to keep right. He will appear later for a hearing before Justice of the Peace Daniel J. McMonagle, of Tillson.

Two Women Hurt

Two women were injured shortly after noon Thursday in a mishap which occurred at the IBM parking lot. Mrs. Christine Barberich, 19, of Rifton and Miss Karen Zygmunt, 19, Esopus, were taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctors Ambulance. Both reportedly sustained possible head injuries. No further details were available.

'Hey Landlord!'—Tenants Raise the Roof in Old Brownstone House

By ISOBEL ASHE
HOLLYWOOD

Have you seen "Hey Landlord!" starring Will Hutchins and Sandy Baron? If not, anticipate it like a kid on Christmas morning. Chances are you'll not be disappointed.

What makes a show just that little bit different? The stars, first. The writers and production company, second—although the stars of this particular series are first to say: "The writers! Without them, nothing."

The writers in this case are also the producers-creators—Jerry Belson and Gary Marshall, who wrote many of the Dick Van Dyke scripts. Executive consultant is Sheldon Leonard, and his contributions to TV in general and comedy in particular need not be repeated.

So let's deal with the people in the show and behind it. Will Hutchins is a television veteran of "Sugarfoot," and says: "The best 'Sugarfoot' were the funny ones. They went wrong in trying to make me a hero. I think some of the scripts were rejects from their serious westerns."

Belson and Marshall recall that Hutchins sat silently at the first meetings before they shot the pilot last spring. "Speak up, Will," they urged him, "if there's anything about this character you want to change."

Hutchins' features, normally in repose, were startled. "At Warners they never let me talk. In fact they didn't even talk to me. I finally got to writing them letters. But they didn't answer."

It's not the same at "Hey Landlord!" Hutchins and his television roommate are urged to improvise on the scripts and make suggestions. Sandy Baron, the roommate, is accustomed to this. He is a graduate of the New York reviews, "The Second City" and "The Premise."

"Having a pal on the show is the same, you get a back-and-forth routine. We first met when we did the pilot and got along great."

The two have defied show business traditions of comics never socializing. They go to sports events together, dine at each other's homes. Their wives go to dance classes and ballet together.

"It helps us to see each other away from the studio. It's like a crash program of self-revelation," says Sandy. He admits he's a method comic, but wouldn't go so far as to munch a gallon of dill pickles if he were playing a delicatessen owner.

"The great comics knew what they were doing, in studying the motivation of their parts—Chaplin, Keaton and W. C. Fields," he points out.

Both men admit to having idols of other-day comics. On the wall in Sandy's dressing room is

Sandy Baron is always ready to throw that monkey wrench into Will Hutchins plans (?) in the weekly stanza of "HEY LANDLORD" NBC's 8:30-9 p. m. Eastern Time. The Cupcakes: Pamela Rodgers, Miko Mayama, the show's stock beauties

"My guy is Harold Lloyd," says Will, "but I think Sandy is more like Keaton."

Both are silent movie fans. Will says he's sort of an authority on Trivia. "I can remember the unimportant things, like who played a waiter in what picture. I just forget the big things—like my wife's birthday," he grins. His wife Chris, by the way, is Carol Burnett's sister. He met Chris when she was attending secretarial school in New York and living with Carol and her husband.

"I was on Broadway in a play at the time and we couldn't go out until I got through at the theatre, after 11:00. Chris wouldn't get home till 4 or 5 in the morning and she was too tired to go to school. I figured I had to marry her. I'd wrecked her career."

Sandy's wife Genny, a New York model, is a lookalike for Barbara Feldon and may continue her modeling career, now that they have moved to Hollywood.

Both young men feel there's something in "Hey Landlord!" for everyone.

"It's not a bromide," they say. "Look at it this way: We're two we'll enter the stage of bum-hood."

"The premise of the show," says Will, "is that I've been left an old New York brownstone by my uncle. I'm an aspiring writer named Woody. Sandy is Chuck, a hopeful comic. We live in the brownstone, trying to rent apartments and live off the proceeds."

"We barely make ends meet. We share one sweater to wear when on dates—obviously, we can't double-date. One of us wouldn't be well-dressed!"

"We figure the young marrieds will look at us and say, 'Hey, remember when we lived like that?' And the teenagers dream of this kind of life, when they can move out of the house and be on their own."

Writers-producers Belson and Marshall take it a step further:

"These are nice, young, bright people. Not the oddballs, who are in the minority of young people, we know. Our boys are trying to find their way in the world before responsibility sets in. They're in their mid-20s and they're reliving a bachelors' dream. Girls come and go as tenants."

"As a matter of fact, we figured if a tenant isn't funny and doesn't get laughs, he can move out!"

The tenants who've been successful in getting laughs thus far are Katherine Minner, who urges us to put a certain brand-name car in our garages, honnee, and Ann Morgan Guilbert, who was the snoopy wife on the Dick Van Dyke show. This time out she's Mrs. Henderson, a lady whose kid is against her. She calls her four sons the Dalton Boys. There is an eccentric photographer played by Michael Constantine, and there are, of course, the two beauties on the show: Pamela Rodgers who plays Timothy, a TV weather girl, and Miko Mayama as Kyoko, a stewardess.

"We've no idea how big our building is or how many tenants we can house. It's a very expandable apartment," Will says.

For the technically minded—"Hey Landlord!" is the only NBC show this season filmed before an audience. Therefore, there is no canned laughter manipulated by a man with a mysterious machine.

Among its other claims to fame is that the Canadian Broadcasting company, which has its choice of shows to purchase each year among all three networks, initially bought only one new show: "Hey Landlord!"

(By the way, if you're planning a trip to Hollywood and want to contribute your own living laughter to the show, tickets are available. The producers and the stars are eager to get real people rather than agents and relatives guffawing at them.)

"It's like playing a night club," says Sandy. "You know you're dying with the people out there when you hear the band behind you give out with a Haaaaaaa!!! Here at Desilu when we hear those people in the bleachers laughing at us, we know we're getting our point across."

Just Waiting

Bob Crane, of Hogan's Heroes, is a very good drummer. When he was visiting Art Linkletter's House Party, Crane told Linkletter of a childhood dream. "I used used to go to the theatres where the big bands played. I would sit in the audience just waiting for the drummer to faint, or get ill, so that the conductor would step to the footlights and ask, 'is there a 14-year-old drummer in the house?' But darn it, no one ever did."

Bowling Finals On Channel 13

WAST, Channel 13, will telecast live the Canadian Professional Bowler's Association finals directly from Morris Cramer's Bowler's Club on Sunday afternoon, November 20, from 4:00 to 5:00 p. m.

Approximately 250 entries are expected for the two-day event. The final head-to-head games to determine the championship will be televised.

The Canadian Professional Bowler's Association is composed of both American and Canadian bowlers who live in northern New York and along the Canadian side of the border.

WAST sports director Al Cahill and Morris Cramer will de-

A Real Difference

Burt Reynolds, who has worked in television in both Hollywood and New York, says the difference between the two places is this: "In Los Angeles, people are blasé about making movies and nothing else. In New York, they are blasé about everything but the movie business."

scribe the action in this local Channel 13 sports special.

DOROTHY LAMOUR and Bing Crosby rehearse for Hollywood Palace which is seen Saturday nights on ABC.

Meet Dorothy Lamour

Jumpy for 'Road' Again

NEW YORK — "Every time her husband of 23 years — Bill mommy gets a li'l jumpy, mommy goes back to work," said Dorothy Lamour, a jumpy mommy if you ever saw one.

She was holding court with

Howard whom a lot of people say is a Baltimore millionaire—a couple of very young press agents and everybody who didn't have a tin ear at Sardi's.

Object: Let the world know that the Sarong Girl of all those Bing Crosby-Bob Hope pictures "is ready to go back to work."

Now that her children (Ridge, 20, and Tom, 17) are grown, Miss Lamour doesn't like to be jumpy alone while her lanky husband is away making money at his packaging plants. There is only so much charity work, and she does plenty, that a former movie star can do.

Last month, she sprained her leg on Bob Hope's salute to his leading ladies ("Boy that was a mess. All those women dishing one another. Only Lucille Ball and I had enough sense to keep our mouths shut," she recalls) and on Nov. 26 she will join Bing Crosby on The Hollywood Palace over ABC-TV to sing the hits from all those Paramount Pictures they did together.

How did it feel working with the boys again?

"Wonderful. When you know somebody so well it doesn't matter how long you have been away. You pick up where you left off," she said.

Miss Lamour, who still looks good, hair is very dark; legs are still firm and shapely; only a few crow's feet around the eyes), wants to have her own daytime talk show.

"I'm not a woman who can lie down and rest or play bridge all day. I've been working all my life," she said.

What does her husband think about this return to the limelight?

"Anything Dotty wants to do is all right with me. Everybody still loves her and she might as well. She only stayed home because of the boys," he said. "Her reunion with Bing on The Hollywood Palace is the best thing since 'High Button Shoes.'" has paid off handsomely for him. Television stars of many long-running series have complained about fans identifying them only by the name of the characters they play.

It has been a long time, he happily admits, since he has overheard the words, "Look, there's Ben Cartwright."

The roar of the crowd in public is not for Ben but for Lorne Greene. That's the way he likes it. He explains:

"Bonanza can't go on forever. Shows go out of style, people go out of style. I give it another two or three years. I hope I'll be young enough to do other things. No, I'll never be young enough but you can be assured that I will do other things."

Lorne Greene Enjoys Bonanza Of Good Fortune

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—Lorne Greene considered a cocktail, then said "No thank you" to the waitress and ordered half a grapefruit and a rare steak.

"I went on a diet, quit smoking and started exercise all on the same day," he frowned, "but how can you control yourself in Las Vegas? (Where he had just spent the weekend.) The only exercise I had was at a roulette table. And you know something? I discovered a system. I bet on my birthday and won enough to pay for the whole trip—hotel, meals, plane fare, everything."

It figured. The star of Bonanza, now in its eighth top-rated year on NBC-TV has been enjoying a bonanza of good fortune ever since he created the role of Ben Cartwright for an audience now totaling 400 million in 62 countries around the world.

Some people say Greene has almost as many interests as Art Linkletter, but about this he laughs, "I just seem busier. The only way to feel young is to be young—to do things you've never done before. Doing things you've never done before will take years off your life."

New for Greene this season will be two big NBC-TV specials—the narration and hosting on the day after Thanksgiving of It's A Dog's World, which he describes as the part dogs play in human life. The second is a Christmas special of songs with the UNICEF Children's choir.

He's also finding time to narrate the Orange Bowl parade on New Year's Eve and to record two albums, one of western songs and one of poetry.

In private life he's just as active in local and national affairs. "I feel," he explains, "that I have a responsibility to participate in the community in which I live and in the national community via television. How can you turn down the Red Cross or the American Cancer Society? (He's the new National Chairman of the 1967 Fund Raising Campaign.) It isn't a one way street. To get you have to give. If you don't give you don't get."

Keeping busy as Lorne Greene

Pamela Rodgers, Ex-Beauty Queen

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — There's still room at the top in show business for the beauty contest winner.

There is, that is, if you happen to be a gorgeous, red-haired, bright young lady named Pamela Rodgers, a former "Miss Texas."

A series of beauty contests, from the neighborhood bush league to the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant, launched Pamela on the road to the top which this season gave her a co-starring role in NBC-TV's comedy series Hey, Landlord.

She's the girl playing the kookie TV weather forecaster who lives in the brownstone owned and managed by Will Hutchins. The role came as a result of her sexy performances in such movies as "The Silencers," "Three On a Couch" and "The Oscar."

As a newcomer to the cameras Pamela made quite a "splash." "Miss Splashday," ironically, was the title Pamela won in her first beauty contest, a neighborhood competition in her home town of Houston with which a group of merchants publicized a sales drive.

"And before I realized what I had started," Pamela laughs today, "I had become Miss Two-Way Radio, Miss Drive Safely and Miss Drink More Milk."

It all led to the title of Miss Texas in the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant. The Miss Universe title escaped her but the bidding for runners-up in a major beauty contest can be almost as keen as the bidding for High school football and baseball stars.

The contest won her the role of a showgirl at the Copacabana in New York, then an all-American beauty spotlight in a Las Vegas hotel show.

Now Pamela is serious about an acting career and thrilled about the unexpected fringe benefits which accrue to young TV series performers.

"Our director Jerry Paris has taught me more about comedy and timing than I could have learned in years at an acting school. His mind visualizes sight gags that work so well even the writers are amazed."

The Las Vegas spotlight, she admits, brought her a problem.

"They thought," she says, "that I could dance but I couldn't. I was apprehensive at first, but some of the other girls covered for me and took me aside for private instruction and practice. Happily for me, the routines were rather simple and in a week I was dancing up a storm."

That's Pamela — bright. She's now acting up a storm in Hey, Landlord.

Now an Actor

Ever wonder whose hand strikes the match that lights the fuse that runs across the screen at the beginning of CBS-TV's Mission: Impossible? Well, TV Scout likes to keep viewers well informed, so know that it belongs to Bruce Geller, the series executive producer. He says "Now I am an actor."

Vinson Not Inept As He Appears

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—Gary Vinson laughed about his father's reaction to the bungling sheriff role he's playing this year in the CBS-TV comedy series Pistols 'n' Petticoats.

"Son," old Dad said, "you're finally doing what you do best." "What's that?" asked the puzzled Gary.

"INEPTITUDE," replied his father in capital letters.

Gary, a fellow who doesn't take himself too seriously, could also laugh about the fan mail he has been receiving.

"Really," he said, "I'm playing such an idiot that people are sending me sympathy cards. I even received a letter from a 10-year-old boy in North Carolina who said if I ever visited the area to look him up. He wrote, 'I'll be happy to take you out into the field and teach you how to shoot.'"

As everyone in TV knows, there is nothing inept about Gary Vinson's ability as an actor. This is his ninth consecutive year on network TV in series ranging from The Roaring 20's to the recent McHale's Navy.

A Southern California-born lad (El Segundo) he has been acting in movies and TV since he was 18.

"I started," he grins, "during the Marlon Brando era when guys my age in Hollywood were all wearing pouts, torn shirts, mussed hair and looked like they needed a bath. I refused to go that route so whenever anyone needed an all-American boy type I was the only all-American boy type available."

His professional debut came on television, on Milton Berle's first show from NBC's Burbank studio after the comedian left New York.

"I played an NBC page boy who walked on stage to tell Milton, 'Pardon me, Mr. Berle, but your guest John Wayne has arrived.'"

"I was so nervous about it that Berle personally rehearsed me in the line at least 12 times. Then, just before the show started, I saw Berle pacing up and down behind the curtain with a worried look on his face. I did not realize this was normal for him. So I walked up to him and said,

"Don't worry, Mr. Berle, I'll read the line perfect."

"I'll never forget the look he gave me without saying a word. He just looked right through me, then resumed his pacing. I'll never forget my reading of the line on the show, either. I was still a nervous wreck. The words came out more like a scream."

Find Real Lives Of Peyton Cast More Dramatic

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To the casual observer, it might seem that the actual lives of the "Peyton Place" cast appear more dramatic than the roles they perform.

After all, what script writer could have dreamed up a more stirring story than Dorothy Malone's rescue from death by a corps of dedicated physicians after her seizure with blood clots in her lungs? And the swinging saga of Mia Farrow and her new husband, Frank Sinatra, is far beyond what could be devised for a television series.

Off Screen Crisis

Latest of the "Peyton Place" cast to star in his own offscreen crisis was Ed Nelson, the handsome chap who has played Dr. Rossi since the series began. A couple of months ago, he developed chills at the studio one morning and found himself unable to concentrate on his lines. "I think you'd better shoot around me today," said the actor, who was treated for fatigue—a common ailment with series stars—and sent to his home near Pomona.

Nelson consulted his own doctor and was hospitalized for three days of tests. Then he was told that a tumor had been discovered on his lung. It also appeared in X-rays that had been taken three years before when he had an ulcer attack; the tumor was overlooked at the time.

Immediate surgery was recommended, but Nelson declined. "I'll have to wait three weeks so the series can prepare for my absence," he said. "If that tumor hasn't grown in three years, I think I'll be safe to wait another three weeks."

Nelson finished out the scripts that had been written for him and quietly checked off the 20th Century-Fox lot to prepare for surgery. The operation required 3½ hours, "nothing compared to Dorothy's"—Miss Malone's last of 11 hours. Nelson was told the tumor was benign, and in five weeks he had returned to "Peyton Place."

Don't Come Easy

"The lines don't come as easily as they used to," he admitted on his first day back. "My values changed when I came so close to death, and I am examining everything more closely now."

"'Peyton Place' seems to be doing all right in its third year, and I expect it will go the full five years. I had always expected that I would stay with it to the end, but now I wonder."

"The question is, Do I want to go on saying all those words for another two years? Dr. Rossi is a wordy part, since he gets involved in everyone else's lives. I'm a guy who use to love the riding and fights of Westerns, and now all I do is stand there and talk. Is this what I really want to do?"

Wrong Idea

Chris George, who stars in Rat Patrol, is Greek, but all his life he has heard people say "you don't look Greek." Then he visited Athens this past summer, where his parents were born, and found the world has the wrong idea of what Greeks look like. "There are a lot of fair-haired, light-eyed Greeks in Athens," he said.

Ask TV Scout

TODAY DROPOUT — Why isn't Jack Lescoulie on The Today show? Will he be back this season?—Mrs. L. E. Harding, St. Marys, W. Va.
 His contract wasn't renewed by NBC-TV this fall. He isn't expected to return.

SKITCH SCRATCHED—Why did Skitch Henderson leave The Tonight Show?—Mrs. Y. Schaller, Stillwater, Minn.

He told TV SCOUT he was fed up with the nightly chore and wanted to concentrate on his writing, recording and guest appearances as a symphony conductor.

LOVE 'EM DEAD—Is it true some woman is charging Sean Connery with the murder of her husband?—M. C., Urbana, Ill.

No? Are you sure you're not mixing up Connery the actor with James Bond, the Ian Fleming woman killer he plays in films?

Mrs. Miller Has Time of Her Life

By BILL BYERS

NEW YORK — "Be careful about Mrs. Miller. Surely the poor soul doesn't know she sings so badly. You may hurt her feelings."

This is the warning you hear before you lunch with Mrs. Elva Miller, the 58-year-old Claremont, Calif., housewife whose off-key, off-beat recordings have made you forget about the scratchy tones of Florence Foster Jenkins.

Settled comfortably before a cup of hot consomme in Sardi's, the lady with the mauve-colored turban firmly on her round, motherly head, indeed looks like a favorite aunt. And you are cautious.

Would she approve of a martini? Would she approve of asking her if she thought of herself as an odd ball in the music world?

You have the martini and skip the question.

"I'm having the best time in my life," she says, with a very big wink. "Can you imagine the youngsters liking an old lady like me?"

Her chatter, as she sips her soup with one plump pinky raised, is all voluntary.

On one side is her press agent, a bit fatigued from promoting her latest album, "Will Success Spoil Mrs. Miller?" ("It won't, it won't," he says), her television appearances on The Ed Sullivan Show and The Hollywood Palace and her new film, "The Cool Ones," starring Roddy McDowell.

He is quiet as is her manager, Fred Bock, a slim blond who has a master's degree in music from the University of Southern California. Bock discovered Mrs. Miller seven years ago when as a hobby she used to come into a music store where he worked in Los Angeles to record church hymns. Childless, her life in those days was occupied as a Girl Scout counselor and as a good Presbyterian.

Bock introduced her to Capitol Records and they asked her to sing "Downtown" the song Petula Clark had made so popular.

"First time I sang it, I thought it was so funny I could hardly finish," said Mrs. Miller. "I didn't know the arrangement was for rock 'n' roll. But who was I to say? These young people know what sells."

She also said she was aware that the band played two beats behind her and that sometimes she sang off-key. After all, when she was a young girl in Kansas, she trained seven years to be an opera singer.

Her life was too busy for her ever to seriously consider being an opera diva. Married 32 years to John Miller, a retired rancher who has been ailing in recent years, she uses her earnings to pay off hospital debts and build a "nest egg" for their old age.

Recently, someone asked her if she still wanted to sing opera. "I sat down and laughed until they went away," said Mrs. Miller, who is having too much fun these days to fret about insults.

NANCY KULP

Nancy Kulp Is Koufax Neighbor

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—Now listen to Nancy Kulp's tale of woe.

She's beginning to think there is no Sandy Koufax.

A year ago she bought a hill-top home in the Studio City section of San Fernando Valley.

What cinched the deal, Nancy admits, was when the real estate fellow said:

"It's not only a good buy but you overlook Sandy Koufax."

With that the realtor pointed to another home on the next hill-top saying, "That's where Sandy Koufax lives."

So Dodger fan Nancy wrote a check and moved into the home overlooking Sandy Koufax.

Since then she has driven past Sandy's home twice daily on her way to and from General Service studio where she plays the role of CBS-TV's The Beverly Hillbillies.

Nancy and Sandy shop in the same supermarket, in the same stationery store and they have their automobiles washed in the same car wash.

But has Nancy ever met her idol?

"Never," she pouted. "I've never even SEEN him. I keep telling myself, 'Don't be such an idiot about something.' But it's becoming an obsession with me. I've thought of having a flat tire in front of his house. I've thought of having him arrested—I'm the honorary sheriff of Studio City—and having him brought to my hilltop. I've thought of a lot of things. I've even thought, 'Maybe he's afraid to meet me. Maybe he's afraid of my fatal beauty!'"

Has she ever seen him pitch? "Have I ever seen him pitch," she thunders. "I was there when he had to leave the mound in the second inning during the World Series. I cried for him. I wanted to take him by the hand and cook him some chicken soup."

The man who owns the stationery store patronized by both Nancy and Sandy knows about Nancy's frustration. The other day he told her:

"Miss Kulp, Sandy came in the other day and before I even waited on him I rushed to a phone and called you, thinking you could rush right down to the store. But your line was busy."

Nancy says she cried again. So let all this be an open letter to Sandy Koufax.

One of your neighbors wants to meet you, Sandy. She would be happy just to SEE you.

She's a real fan, she'd love to have your autograph.

"Or," says Nancy Kulp, "I'd rather play catch with him."

Dog to Rescue

Followers Hope 'My 3 Sons' Will Return to Normal

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) "My Three Sons," the CBS series, seems to go on smoothly from year to year specializing in warm family relationships, gentle comedy, a discreet laugh track and a very comfortable if not dramatic Nielsen rating.

Over the seasons the half-hour show has survived a change of Demarest for the late William Frawley as the crochety, lovable senior member of the family. It married off — and out of the show — the oldest son who outgrew his part and replaced him with an appealing little boy who started out as a visiting orphan but now is a bona fide offspring.

On Soup Sales Binge

It made all these shifts without causing so much as a ripple of discomfort for the program's devotees. But "My Three Sons" went on a wild, tearing Soupy Sales binge Thursday night.

It was all very unexpected. Robbie, currently the number one son, started a birthday supply operation that became suddenly big business during one of the father's absences. In fact, the boys were so busy making birthday cakes, they forgot their father's birthday — very typical of "My Three Sons" style with a nice little moral building up.

Then suddenly everybody gathered in the kitchen and started heaving cakes at each other — 37 of them in fact — as the laugh track whooped it up and whipped cream was scattered all over. Friends of the program devoutly hope this was just something the writers had to get out of their systems.

On another front, NBC's "Daniel Boone" goes its busy way as an early evening program designed to entertain and amuse children in the audience. Although it is set in the Revolutionary War period, it looks like a western and very often it acts like a western.

Thursday night's episode featured a shootout between a good Indian named Red Sky and a bad Indian named Tall Deer.

Some Boone Violence

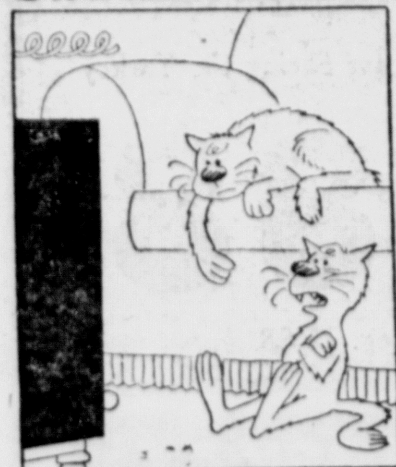

For all the presence of Boone's wife and children and occasional lectures on sportsmanship, manners and fair play, it manages to inject plenty of action and — let's face it — violence into most episodes.

The report in industry circles is that CBS will keep "It's About Time" in its present Sunday spot for the rest of the season but will make a radical change in its format in an effort to improve its low ratings.

Crazy Stunt

Allen Funt, asked about the craziest stunt he ever pulled for Candid Camera, said the craziest was also the most spectacularly unsuccessful. He had a room at a Chicago fair turned completely upside down, with all the furniture on the ceiling. All day, people kept wandering into the room, Funt recalled, looking around and asking, "Where's the rest room?"

TV Questions & Answers

ALICE'S NEW PAL — Who was the actor who played "Lester the Jester" on the recent special, Alice Through the Looking Glass? Where was he born? — Betsy Hoxmeir, St. Paul, Minn.

Roy Castle, English-born performer who was once featured on the old Garry Moore show, played the part. The character was invented for television and wasn't in the original Alice story.

SILVERS' STRIPES — Did Phil Silvers ever play the part of Captain Binghamton on McHale's Navy? — S.C. Ft. Wayne, Ind.

No. Joe Flynn played the role for the show's three seasons. Silvers' only military-type series was Bilko in which he played a sergeant.

NEW TRUTHS — Are the daytime To Tell the Truth shows repeats of the old Moday night shows? — C. M. Fry, W. Palm Beach, Fla.

No. They are produced especially for daytime viewers. If you notice on the daytime quiz the most each contestant can win as $133.33. On the nighttime version it's $333.33. Starting Dec. 12, the program will be back again on Monday evenings at 10.

ENTERTAINMENT BLACK-OUT — Why are we older people denied the pleasure of our favorite shows because the network wants to pre-empt them for speeches by LBJ and other government officials? — H.J.E., Bradenton, Fla.

Shows are only pre-empted when the networks think a news event — or a Presidential speech — is worth national attention. Every time they do this the networks lose revenue. They do this because many older as well as younger viewers who are interested in their government and country want to be informed.

OLD ONE RETURNS — Why did they take off the excellent British spy show, The Avengers? It was the only one worth watching every week. — Mrs. D. F., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Rejoice. The Avengers, with Patrick Macnee and Diana Rigg, returns over ABC-TV Jan. 20. The new episodes are filmed in color.

BATBABIES NEXT? — When will the humorous Batman series have a Batwoman? — A. V., San Angelo, Tex.

Never. Although the Gotham City belles are batty over the Caped Crusader he is much too busy fighting crime to romance any of them.
